Livestock In Spotlight As 67,000 Attend Fair

By Del Harding

An estimated 67,000 persons attended the State Fair Monday as livestock judging took the spotlight.

The 3-day fair attendance total now stands at 201,000 compared with 197,000 for the same period in 1959. The 1959 Labor Day crowd was the same as this year's 67,000 and Monday marked the first day that the 1960 fair has not bettered the 1959 daily attendance mark.

Highlighting the 4-H program Monday was the awarding of purple ribbons to 11 youngsters for their market heifers. The sale of their heifers along with the purple ribbon steers to be selected Tuesday will feature the annual baby beef auction Thursday afternoon.

Showing the top market heifers were:

Gary Sandsted, 15, Holdrege, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sandsted, with an Angus heifer named "Sheba."

Daryle Vollmer, 21, Howells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Vollmer, with an Angus heifer named "Blackie."

Mary Ann Biere, 16, Auburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Biere, with an Angus heifer named "Princess."

Nancy Miller, 13, Elmwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller, with a Shorthorn heifer named "Queenie."

LeRoy Meiergerd, 20, West Point, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried Meiergerd, with an Angus heifer named "Daisy."

Gary Reiling, 16, Seward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Reiling, with a Hereford heifer named "Pixie."

Jerrold Hibbs, 16, Smithfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hibbs, with an Angus heifer named "Beauty."

Karen Crays, 12, Tobias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crays, with a Hereford heifer named "Holly."

Gary White, 13, Lexington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith White, with an Angus heifer named "Dolly."

David Pelster, 13, Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfird Pelster, with an Angus heifer (no name)

Gordon Schlechte, 17, Waco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Schlechte, with a Hereford heifer named "Wiggles."

Driver Killed

Marring the big car races Monday afternoon was a crash in which Al Chamberlain of Altoona, Pa., was killed after his car flipped over. Buzz Barton of Tampa, Fla., won the feature race before an estimated 7,000 Grandstand fans.

In the 4-H dairy competition Kathleen Lux of Lincoln was the only double purple ribbon winner with two Jerseys. Richard Emken of Mead won the dairy showmanship contest.

Allen Krivohlavek of Dorchester showed 3 purple ribbon swine and Fred McGuire of Wisner had one purple ribbon swine and also took swine showmanship honors in other 4-H action.

Open Class result included a sweep of Polled Shorthorn honors by Albert Hultine and Sons of Saronville. They showed the Nebraska, junior and grand champion bull and heifer.

Dan and W. G. McCubbin of Elkhorn had the Nebraska, junior and grand champion Shorthorn bull and Brentwood Shorthorns of Oakland, Ia., showed the junior and grand champion female in Open Class competition.

In FFA competition David Kraeger of Plattsmouth showed the grand champion market hog. Gene Vallery of Plattsmouth had the grand champion market hog pen and the Plattsmouth FFA won the market hog chapter award.

Bill Wilson of Kearney, Charles Stoehr of Plattsmouth and Tom Reimers of West Point each had 3 breed champion purebred FFA swine entries.

Other Open Class results included Burdette Batchelder of Seward showing the senior, grand and Nebraska champion Red Poll bull and female. Danby Farms of Millard had the junior and grand champion Shetland Pony stallion and Kenneth Collins of Beatrice showed the senior and grand champion Shetland Pony mare.

LUMUMBA BOOTED

CONGO HEAD, IN TURN, FIRED BY PREMIER

Ill-Disciplined Army Certain To Play A Decisive Role

Leopoldville, The Congo (AP) — The Congo's soft-spoken President Joseph Kasavubu made a sudden bold move Monday night to fire the erratic Premier Patrice Lumumba, but Lumumba refused to quit his office.

Instead, Lumumba appealed by radio to youth and workers to "defend the republic." He said he had fired Kasavubu from the presidency.

Kasavubu said he was trying to stop the Congo's lunge under Lumumba toward the Soviet bloc.

All United Nations forces in the capital were put on a state of alert and a special U.N. guard was posted around President Kasavubu's residence.

Showdown Awaited

A showdown of force between the President and Lumumba appeared to loom over the capital.

Two hours after Kasavubu accused Lumumba on the radio of having plunged the Congo into a fratricidal war and disaster, the premier took control of the network building.

"Forward youth and workers of the Congo," shouted Lumumba. "You must defend the republic."

A group of supporters clapped and shouted "Vive Lumumba" in the studio as Lumumba spoke.

He said Kasavubu was no longer chief of state and shouted: "I am still chief of the national army."

New Strife Looms

There was no doubt that the army—an ill-trained, ill-disciplined mass of men commanded by new officers—will have a decisive role to play in the days to come.

The muzzles of U.N. machineguns manned by British-trained Ghana and Sudan soldiers and crack Moroccan riflemen kept a tense and determined watch over the city.

Under Article 32 of the fundamental law theoretically serving as the country's constitution, the president can dismiss the premier if he deems such action necessary.

Kasavubu announced dramatically in mid-evening that Lumumba was fired. The President asked the U.N. to restore order.

Aimed at Communists

Kasavubu's avowed aim was to frustrate a Soviet-led Communist attempt to move into central Africa through material and technical aid to the Lumumba government.

Moving swiftly behind the scenes of Lumumba's leftward lunge, Kasavubu asked the United Nations to take over the preservation of order.

He asked Senate President Joseph Ileo, a notably moderate political leader of the National Congolese movement, to form a new government in place of Lumumba.

Kasavubu acted as Soviet and Eastern European "advisers" were pouring into the country.

Russian Ilyushin planes already were being employed to move Lumumba's troops against his political foes.

It appeared certain that the case of Soviet intervention would come before the United Nations, Western diplomats here said.

Only a few hours before Kasavubu made his dramatic announcement on the radio more than a score of Czechs dined in the airport restaurant before leaving on a tour of the country.

Pen Inmates Refuse To Communicate

Seven State Penitentiary inmates, whose escape plans led to a dead end Sunday night, refused to talk to prison officials Monday, according to Warden Maurice Sigler.

Sigler said he would confer with the county attorney Tuesday morning as to whether or not escape charges would be filed against the men. Meanwhile, they are in solitary confinement.

Sigler said prison officials were convinced that other prisoners helped the 7 get into the steam tunnel they apparently thought would be an escape route.

The tunnel, however, turned out to be a trap and the men were found by guards about two hours after they were reported missing.

The prisoners, all regarded as "dangerous" were identified as Paul Small, Larry Edward Dye, Charles E. Dean and John Joseph Kripps, all of Omaha; Raymond Tapia of Denver, Billy Ray Howard of Scottsbluff and Gilbert Sagaser of San Luis Obispo, Calif.

—UNIONISTS LASH GOP—

Land Of Plenty Claims Blasted

Washington (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders, marking Labor Day Monday, attacked claims that the United States has become a land of plenty under the Eisenhower administration.

And Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, told a Labor Day rally in Detroit that policies of the Republicans had retarded U.S. economic growth to less than half the rate being achieved by Russia.

The AFL-CIO is backing Kennedy against Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP candidate.

N. Y. March

In New York, about 170,000 labor unionists marched up Fifth Avenue in an annual parade witnessed by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, among others.

Mitchell commented: "It's too bad (Soviet Premier Nikita S.) Khrushchev is not able to witness such a demonstration of free people."

Labor Day saw the Pennsylvania Railroad strike pass through its fifth straight day without any sign of a settlement.

Bore Down

In recorded radio talks, union leaders bore down on contentions that full employment and full production are vital to the welfare of this nation—but that the United States is far short of these goals.

AFL-CIO President George Meany declared "we enjoy the highest living standards anywhere, yet millions of our people are still entrapped in slums . . ."

Meany said millions are employed at below standard pay, that housing is inadequate, that the aged lack insurance against costly illness, that the educational system has deteriorated sadly, and that racial and religious discrimination is still rife.

Never Before

Walter Reuther, auto workers president and a vice president of the AFL-CIO, said "we are told that we never had it so good and that the gross national product is larger than ever before."

"This is dangerous economic nonsense," Reuther added.

EXPENSIVE ROLLS...prizes totaled $101.

'Weekend Cook' Gets $101 For Plate Of Rolls

By Nancy Ray

The next time Mrs. Harold Gilman of 5340 Colby sets a plate of freshly-baked rolls on the dinner table, she can expect a little respect from her family.

After all, Mom's light bread rolls brought her $101 in prize money at the State Fair.

Of course, Mr. Gilman and daughter, Linda, may go right on preferring Mom's cinnamon rolls, which didn't win a cent because of those extra pecans and trimmings she put on. But that's a family for you.

Mrs. Gilman describes herself as a weekend cook, too busy with teaching rapid learners at Huntington School to bake during weekdays.

First Attempt

Her first try at State Fair competition won her a $50 special prize from Robin Hood Flour, another $50 and a Tiffany gold-and-jewel pin from Fleischmann Yeast, and of course, $1 in first premium money from the State Fair.

Her reaction to the windfall: "Shocked. I just stirred them up at the last minute."

"I was going out to the fair anyhow, and I thought it would be more interesting if I had a stake in it," she explained.

It certainly was.

HOT READINGS TO CONTINUE

Nebraska's temperatures were to remain near 90 in the northern part of the state to the mid and upper 90s in the south Tuesday.

High readings in the Panhandle were to reach the lower 90s.

Monday's high ranged from 99 at Burwell to 94 at Valentine, with Lincoln reporting a 95-degree high.

Highway Toll Climb Steady

By The Associated Press

TRAFFIC	388
BOATING	24
DROWNING	76
MISCELLANEOUS	77
TOTALS	565

The death toll on the nation's highways mounted steadily Monday night, threatening to reach the 460 predicted by the National Safety Council for the Labor Day weekend.

"The toll is running extremely close to our estimate," the NSC said. "And unless homeward-bound motorists exercise more caution our prediction will prove valid."

Millions of drivers, weary after the 3-day holiday, pose an immense threat in the final hours, the NSC said.

Another factor to be reckoned with, the NSC said, is that there were about 2½ million more vehicles on the road during this holiday than last year.

About 73 million cars, buses and trucks jammed the highways this year, the council said.

No New State Deaths

No new weekend deaths were reported in Nebraska Monday. The state recorded 3 highway fatalities and 4 drownings on Sunday. The highway death toll for the year is 178, compared with 229 a year ago.

Girl 'Critical'

Deborah Hovey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hovey, of 927 LaBrea, was listed in critical condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday after suffering severe cuts on the left side of the neck and jaw in a boat accident at the Fremont Lakes Sunday.

2 Flee From Reformatory

Law Enforcement officials late Monday were pursuing two State Reformatory inmates who reportedly escaped by climbing the wall of the institution.

The Reformatory said the 2 men went over the wall in spite of a shot fired by a guard.

They were identified as William Myers, 21, and David Kunz, 17.

Blasts, Fire Demolish Gas Plant

Stuart (AP)—The Krotter Bulk Oil and Gas plant at the southeast edge of Stuart was leveled Monday afternoon when fire and explosions swept through 6 storage tanks.

Fire Chief C. E. Miles of O'Neill said at least two of the tanks blew up, and the others burned. The exploding tanks rocked the town and the hot fire cast a pall of smoke over a wide area.

Miles said he understood Don Krotter was filling a truck tank when the fuel ignited. Krotter drove the burning truck outside the tank area, but some coal sheds caught fire and the blaze spread.

The tanks were about of the 3,000 gallon type.

No other business was damaged, although a creamery is located alongside the bulk tanks, and the city light and water works is just across the road and to the north of the storage area.

Also located within one-half block of the fire area is the Stuart Volunteer Fire Department. Other fire departments assisting in extinguishing the blaze, which started about 2:30 p.m., were Bassett, Atkinson, O'Neill, Chambers and Ainsworth.

Miles said a side track of the North Western Railway to the bulk plant "buckled from the intense heat."

The bulk plant is located about one block from the main street of Stuart.

Reds Halt River Barges Bound For Berlin

BLOCKADE OF '48 BEGAN THAT WAY

. . . West Worried

Berlin (AP)—Communist East Germany Monday lifted its 5-day restriction on travel to Berlin, but a border pile-up of barges bound for this isolated city had Western authorities worried.

The barges have been held up since Friday at Schnackenburg, southeast of Hamburg, where the Elbe River flows into East Germany. Monday there were 23 of them awaiting passage, West Berlin authorities said.

One reason for Western concern: The Berlin blockade of 1948-49 started on the canals, which carry much of the city's heavy freight across Communist-held territory. Now, as then, a technical reason is given for the stoppage.

Unconvincing

So far Western authorities have professed to see no political motive in the tie-up, though a West German government spokesman called in the East German explanation unconvincing.

The Communists have told the bargemen the water is too low in some parts of the Havel River, the shortest route to Berlin.

A spokesman for the Interzonal Trade Commission in Berlin told the Associated Press that in such cases the Communist authorities usually stretch a point and let the barges take an alternate route. This time, he added, they have stuck to the letter of the law and refused.

Protest Planned

Since this was done without notice, the spokesman went on, a West German official will go to East Germany Wednesday and make protest. There was no reason to believe, however, that this would be any more effective than protests by the Western Big 3 to the Russians over the travel ban.

Monday border points between East and West Germany reported there was no longer any interference with West Germans trying to reach Berlin. The Communists had said they were preventing "militarists and revenge seekers" from attending meetings in West Berlin. These were called by groups of former war prisoners and Germans expelled from Eastern Europe by the Soviet Army. The meetings ended Sunday.

Annual 4-H Club Banquet

An Estimated 900 Youngsters Hear Gold, Frolik At Banquet

An estimated 900 4-H club boys and girls representing every area of Nebraska took a breather from a busy fair schedule Monday evening to attend the 26th annual Gold's 4-H Club Banquet.

A resounding applause was given Nathan Gold as he described the years that special inspiration has been given visiting 4-H club members during fair week.

He said, "Some of the 4-H members that attended our first banquet are represented by sons and daughters here tonight."

"Management will be the measure of success to the future of agriculture," said Dean E. F. Frolik of the College of Agriculture in addressing club members.

Frolik told the 4-H club members that there are many calls for trained personnel and so few are available to fill the positions.

Valuable Experience

He said, "Living on a farm places you in the special position of having valuable experience that can be important in many fields."

"For the person that can really cut the mustard there is no worry for the future," Frolik said.

Frolik described continued education for the youth of today as, "your duty to your community, state, nation and to yourself."

Responding for the 4-H club members was Douglas Kreifels of York.

He was the 1959 State Champion 4-H club speaker.

He thanked Gold & Co. for the tradition of inspiring 4-H club work with the annual banquet for club members.

Possibly 3 Killed As Plane Hits

Chicago (UPI) — A private plane crashed in flames into Lake Michigan off Chicago's Gold Coast Monday night and the body of a little girl was recovered.

Police beleived at least two, and possibly 3 persons were in the craft when it crashed in 20 to 24 feet of water, just off a breakwater.

The Coast Guard recovered an aircraft portfolio from the water in the vicinity of the crash. The portfolio was in the name of Richard Rickman of Detroit, who the Civil Aeronautics Administration here identified as owner of the plane. But there was no indication Rickman was the pilot or was abroad the plane.

The little girl, described as between 2 and 4 years old, was taken from the water by lifeguards John Emerick and Robert Mansfield. Both were cruising along the beach in a lifeboat when they saw the plane crash in the evening twilight.

Molotov In Vienna

Vienna, Austria (AP)—Vyacheslav M. Molotov flew in Monday to start talking with Westerners on Russia's behalf outside the Iron Curtain for the first time since the Geneva foreign ministers conference of 1955.

The forum of the 70-year-old former foreign minister, whom Premier Khrushchev buried diplomatically for 3 years as Soviet ambassador to Outer Mongolia, will be the International Atomic Energy Agency.

This is the East-West atoms for peace organization, set up here on the basis of a proposal by President Eisenhower in 1953 for the exchange of ideas on harnessing the atom for non-military work.

Molotov was named Aug. 23 as the Soviet Union's permanent representative, succeeding Leonid Zamyatin.

Taylor's Body Being Flown Back To U.S.

Leopoldville, The Congo (UPI) — The, body of Henry N. Taylor, 31, a Scripps-Howard reporter and son of the U.S. ambassador to Switzerland, will be flown to the United States for funeral services in Washington, D.C., on Friday, it was announced Monday.

Taylor was killed instantly by a burst of machinegun fire Sunday while covering a battle between Congolese troops of premier Patrice Lumumba and Baluba tribesmen near the village of Tchelenge, 17 miles southeast of Bakwanga, capital of the so-called independent "mining state" of Albert Kalonji in Kasai Province.

Taylor recently covered the spy trial of Francis Gary Powers in Moscow and had stopped over in Rome for several days to report the Olympics before coming here.

Home Gone, Too

Great Neck, N.Y. (UPI) —Bernard Kaplan, owner of a two-story house, got rid of a bee hive under the cellar steps Monday by lighting a rag soaked with kerosene that he had attached to a stick.

The fire also burned down most of his house.

Brooks Praises Lawmen, Citizens For Safety Effort

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks Monday night complimented local, county and state law enforcement officials for their "extra effort" and expressed his gratitude to the "careful Nebraska motorists" who cooperated in a Labor Day safety drive.

However the governor, in a message relayed from the hospital by his assistant, Robert Conrad, said he was "greatly saddened" by the fact that 3 persons had died in weekend traffic accidents.

Conrad, who is also chairman of the governor's Traffic Safety Committee, pointed out that "The extra law enforcement effort and the splendid assistance of all newspapers, radio and television stations have been productive, for even with 3 fatalities at this moment, Nebraska's misfortunes are somewhat less severe" than other tates.

Conrad pointed to 6 fatalities in Colorado, 10 in Iowa, 7 in South Dakota and 5 in Kansas over the weekend holiday.

Radio-Equipped Sleuths Patrol Fair

By Gene Budig

A couple of Lancaster County lawmen at the State Fair are busy making like Dick Tracy and Sam Ketchum—two-way radios and all.

The silver-badged men with the compact radios up their sleeves are Bill Greiner and Paul Nowakowski, both members of the sheriff's force.

Thus far, they haven't had an opportunity to use their new radios in tracking down any deadly killers at the fairgrounds.

It's just as well though, because they've been too busy elsewhere.

Greiner, the Tracy of the two, reports they've been kept busy helping parents recover lost kids and herding traffic in the right directions.

"The radios have been a real help," Greiner declared. Upping the miniature antenna, he added: "This little baby has saved numerous steps and calls."

The two sets, complete with mike and receiver, have been given to the sheriff's office for use during fair week.

The compact 5-pounder works for nearly 40 hours on a single battery.

So beware you Canheads and Flyfaces, the never-failing Tracy-Ketchum radios are at work in Nebraska.

IKE RETURNS

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower and his grandchildren got back Monday from a Labor Day week-end cruise on the Potomac River.

Elated over the excursion which started last Friday evening, the 4 youngsters and their grandfather came smilingly ashore at the Washington channel landing at 12:55 p.m. (EDT) after an upriver run which started at dawn.

Most Wanted Man Arrested

Washington (UPI) — FBI agents Monday night arrested one of its most wanted criminals driving a stolen car loaded with burglary tools, blasting caps, dynamite, handcuffs and lockpicking equipment.

Attorney General William P. Rogers announced here that FBI agents arrested Harold Eugene Fields, 44, in Schererville, Ind., as he parked the stolen 1960 auto near a restaurant.

Rogers said he had been notified by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover that Fields carried $1,011 and had in the car a loaded .38 caliber revolver, radios and wrist watches.

Fields was placed on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals last May 25.

The FBI said he had an underworld reputation as a safe burglar and an arrest record going back 25 years. He has been convicted on burglary and fraudulent check charges, it said.

Festival Still Fascinates 81-Year-Old Fair Goer

Thomas Andrews of Cambridge, who attended his first fair in 1893, probably has attended more Nebraska State Fairs than any other Nebraskan.

Andrews, who with his wife attended the fair Monday, has missed only 3 state fairs since 1893. This means he has attended 64 of the 91 state fairs.

Andrews, 81, was a Shorthorn beef exhibitor for many years. In 1925, his last year as a competitor, he showed the grand champion, reserve champion and junior champion bulls in the Shorthorn show.

What keeps bringing him back year after year?

Why, the Shorthorn show, of course, answered his wife. And Mrs. Andrews should know as they have been married for 56 years.

Things have changed since the early fairs they attended together.

Andrews said the quality of the beef entries has become much more uniform—he said it used to be easy to pick the top animals but now they all look good. Andrews himself was a livestock judge at state and county fairs.

Mrs. Andrews noted another difference from the early days—they don't come to the fair and camp out for 4 or 5 days like they did when they were younger.

But you can bet that as long as they are able Mr. and Mrs. Andrews both will keep coming to Lccoln during fair week.

Two Girls Rescued

Pair Caught By Undertow

Louisville (AP)—Two 13-year-old Omahans were rescued from the lake near Louisville Monday afternoon when they said they were caught by a strong under current while wading.

Rushed to Douglas County Hospital in Omaha for treatment were Janice Reno and Joyce Campbell.

The girls said they were wading along the edge of the lake when the suction of a current washed them into a hole. Their cries for help were heard and they were rescued.

Hospital attendants said both would be all right.

Southeast Has Corn Leaf Blight

Disease Rarely Shows Up Here

A disease which occurs rarely in Nebraska—corn leaf blight—has been found in southeastern Nebraska, Dr. John L. Weihing said.

Weihing, a University of Nebraska plant disease specialist, said the disease is identified by long brown areas on the leaves. If these are numerous, much of the leaf is destroyed.

The blight is caused by a fungus. It is common and frequently severe in humid areas such as in the south. Humid conditions in Nebraska this season were favorable for the spread of the disease.

Weihing said there are no practical field control measures for the disease at the present time.

Yields are rarely reduced in Nebraska because of the blight, although they may be cut if the leaves are destroyed before the corn has neared maturity.

Engineers End Work On Omaha Area's Missiles

Omaha (AP) — Army Engineers have finished their $14,276,300 worth of work on the Omaha area Atlas missile sites.

The Air Force and its contractors still must install electonic and other gear before the project—3 launchers each at Arlington and Mead, Neb., and Missouri Valley, Iowa—will be operational.

Except for signing acceptance documents, the engineer's portion of the work was wrapped up with a joint Engineers-Air Force inspection of a missile propellant-loading system at Missouri Valley.

The 16-month job was beset with difficulties: a severe winter, labor trouble, manufacturing delays, transportation difficulties and change orders that results because the bases were being built for a missile that itself was still in the development stage.

Big Grass Blaze Near Nebraska, Dakota Line Out

Rapid City, S.D. (AP)— A swift-moving grass fire burned over 3,500 acres of grazing land along the South Dakota-Nebraska line before being controlled by fire-fighters.

The blaze broke out along Highway 385 between Oelrichs, S.D. and Chadron, Neb., burning over an area 4 miles long and a mile and one-half wide.

Jack McBride, fire protection forester for the South Dakota Department of Game, Fish and Parks, said a carelessly thrown cigarette apparently started the fire.

The Light In Heart

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Oblivious to time, the boy is stopped dead in his tracks at the sight of a toad. He believes it to be a frog but what it is actually makes no difference to him. A nearby stick furnishes a tool by which the fat little animal can be prodded into action. As the toad hops with every prod, the boy begins to realize that the length of the jump is sometimes three and four times the length of the animal's body.

"If only I could jump like that," thinks the boy, "life would be a wonderful thing.

Fling With The Birds

I could catch a rabbit in the field or even leap over houses. Now, wouldn't it be a fine thing to soar along at such great heights that nothing could get in my way?" But what is that over there in the grass? Investigation shows that the movement in the grass is a young bird — probably just pushed that day from its nest by a mother who knows by instinct that it is time for independence. The young bird has not yet flown with much confidence but he has had no real cause to do so yet.

But the approach of the boy gives such a cause and the young bird manages to make it to the top of a nearby fence. Pleased with that result, he makes it into the nearest tree and all of a sudden he has found his wings. "If I were only like that bird," the boy thinks, "I would not only leap over tall buildings but I could fly around in the sky.

"Certainly, there would be no limit to my horizons then. In a flash I could be along the river bank or in a faraway land to see new things and people. And what a time I would have around home." His arms extend straight out as he runs along and imagines himself hovering against the ceiling of the living room while mother, father sisters and brothers stand amazed and envious of his great feat.

"Come down from that ceiling," cries mother, "before you fall and break your neck!" But he only flies into the next room with the entire family chasing after him. The chase is never concluded because the boy's attentions are quickly diverted to something else. Lo and behold, if he has not traveled so far that a giant mountain now looms before him. Most certainly, not another living creature has ever climbed this great mountain. With great delight he begins the treacherous climb to the very peak.

More than once he almost loses his footing and goes plunging into the great unknown that now lies beneath him. On the way up a giant eagle attacks him but with courage and the help of a climbing pick he manages to ward the creature off. No sooner has he passed this test than a ferocious mountain lion is seen poised and ready to jump upon him. Only with the greatest of dexterity is he able to jump to one side and avoid the attack — sending the cat to the bottomless depths below.

By now, the boy has ascended into a layer of clouds. His eyes pop out as a glance about at this point proves what he has long suspected — a magic city in the sky. He has always known that such a city existed and now he has found it! He approaches the gates to the city on a path of clouds but is overtaken by fear when a group of angry looking little men suddenly appear from nowhere and surround him.

What can save him now, he wonders, but the question is quickly answered. "Get off that dirt pile," cries a man laying stone for the foundation of a house, "before you get so dirty your mother can never get you clean." Startled, the boy scampers away with his imagination but only to another exciting adventure.

In only seconds he has discovered an accumulation of rocks, many of them shining in the sun as though they must be gold. No question about it, he concludes, there must be lots of money here in these solid gold rocks. And to think that no one else has even seen this great treasure. With that, a few of the biggest rocks are stuffed into a back pocket and dreams of all the ice cream and candy he can eat dance in his head. Almost before he can leave this big find, his eye catches a wooly brown pup coming his way. No question about it, the dog is a real thoroughbred and would make a fine pet. And what a watch dog he would make around the house.

All Kinds Of Treasure

With no collar and ribs showing, he obviously belongs to no one, so an immediate friendship is struck up. Truly, this is a day of real splendor — leaping over houses, flying in the sky, a magic city in the clouds and now a new-found friend. Unusual for the boy? Not at all, it is just average for the one block he has walked so far on his way home from school. And when he walks in the front door an hour late, he won't understand his mother's irritation or concern because he came "straight" home as she had admonished him to do.

Airline Gets Treble Subsidy

WASHINGTON—An angry delegation of Tennesseans, headed by Sens. Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore, called upon Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman Whitney Gillilland the other day to protest the grounding of Southeast Airlines.

The CAB is the supreme court of the aviation industry and Gillilland the chief justice.

Speaking for the group, Gore told Gillilland to his face that the CAB decision was "outrageous and indefensible."

He pointed out that Tennessee, because it is a long, narrow state divided by mountain ranges and rivers, needs good air service.

Bristol, Tenn., is closer and more accessible to Canada than to Memphis, Tenn., he said. Likewise, Memphis is closer and has better transportation to New Orleans than to Bristol.

Southeast Airlines had been providing excellent air service between Tennesee's principal cities until the CAB arbitrarily refused to license the airline and awarded Southeast's routes instead to Southern Airlines, Gore charged.

This has forced southeast to ground its planes and offer them for sale. The new service by Southern Airways was inadequate, the senator complained, possibly because Southern hadn't particularly sought the new routes in the first place.

But the last straw, Gore contended, was the extra cost to the taxpayers. E. Ward King, owner of Southeastern, had offered to fly the Tennessee routes for $488,000 government subsidy. Southern is collecting three times this amount.

Some of the debate on the minimum wage bill was deleted from the congressional record, particularly that which ensued when Sen. E. McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, the GOP leader, almost poked a finger into the nose of Democrat Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Morse stood his ground, staring back at Dirksen with an amused expression.

"Don't shoot him," Democrat Joe Clark of Pennsylvania cautioned Dirksen.

"I was only trying to impress a point," explained Dirksen.

Shortly before this the two men were quite chummy in another exchange, which was not deleted from the record.

"I love that word 'Oregon,' with its rounded sound" unctiously commented Dirksen.

"It is beautiful," agreed Morse.

"In fact," declared Dirksen, warming to the subject, "I used to refer to my distinguished friend, Wayne Morse, from the great Irish state of O'Regon."

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

There's rain in the wind tonight. Strange how the wind seems to talk in its own peculiar way. It has a whistling sound as it blows in the doors and a low moan as it sifts through the screens. The trains have such a loud, shrill whistle, too, and it seems as though they are coming across our front yard instead of down the tracks two miles from the farm. The trees seem to know there is rain in the wind for they whisper in dull, almost inaudible whispers as they wait . . .

Far away there is the first faint hint of thunder and I suspect the cloud horses are galloping across the hills. Lashed with bright streaks of lightning, they gallop faster and faster until the wind, hearing of the approaching storm steeds, quietly leaves. It has performed its work. It has told us beforehand that rain is coming. Now it must make way for it.

When the days are hot and windy, farmers tolerate such weather. "This will really dry the corn and milo," they say in anticipation of another bountiful harvest.

Several farmers in our area have put up the new type silo whereby corn can be picked green and stored with safety to feed livestock. This would eliminate much anxiety at harvest time. But not being one of these farmers, we too look to the wind and sun to dry our crops.

You never miss the water until the well runs dry, is an old saying, but let me tell you — you never miss the refrigerator until it stops right in the middle of a heat wave The unit burned out in ours and now we are debating whether to get a new unit or a new refrigerator. In the meantime, we find ourselves going to the refrigerator, opening the door for ice cubes, cold drinks or cold cuts. We have the deep freeze but eggs, milk, cream and a hundred other things that we rely upon for three meals a day cannot be kept there.

We may have to revert to the old-fashioned milk tank whereby water from the pump poured through a tank in the milk house before going into the stock tank. But on second thought, The Farmer pumps the water underground to the tank now, completely eliminating that idea. So you see, we are almost helpless in this modern era.

I remember years ago, going to the milk tank just before dinner to get the milk, cream and butter, then going back with it just as soon as dinner was completed. If it stood out too long, it would sour.

Never has milk tasted so cold, for the water was like ice water as it pumped into the tank.

Yet I would today consider it a great hardship if I had to cool things in such a way When a person doesn't know of a better way, he is quite content with what he has.

☆ ☆ ☆

At long last with the continued hot weather the blue grass has ceased to grow. The mower and I became quite a twosome as we began "going around together" over the front lawn. It seemed I could mow the lawn one day and almost overnight it would spring up again. It is a welcome change to have the pace of growth slow down a bit. It was getting to the point where either I or the mower was going to give up, and I was afraid I was going to be first.

Question Of Values

Once again, the American Bar Association has approved U.S. participation in the World Court without reservation. As of today, this nation follows what is known as the Connally Amendment which stipulates that the U.S. shall determine what cases in which it is involved shall come under the court's jurisdiction.

While it discussed this subject, the ABA was advised in an address by a former State Department adviser that we should also be in favor of an international criminal court. The present World Court handles only civil actions. Such cases as Israel's seizure in Argentina of Adolf Eichmann would come under the jurisdiction of such a court. The court would in general hold nations and individuals accountable for war crimes and treaty violations.

In theory the idea is a good one, just as is the present World Court, but whether it would ever work in practice is quite another question. The ABA was told by Norman Marsh of Oxford University that a criminal court first needs a broader basis of agreement among nations on moral convictions.

Any court system will work only so long as it represents justice to a majority of those it serves. Our own court system would be a dismal failure if it operated on moral principles which were in conflict with the thinking of a majority of our people. How, then, could an international court work effectively for both communism and democracy?

There is no compatibility between these two ideologies in either the social or political fields. What we would view as immoral, the Russians could easily consider as perfectly acceptable. A court does not and cannot establish moral principles, but can only interpret them and make conclusions as to their violation. With democracy and communism, the court could arrive at no moral foundations from which to administer justice.

Grabbing Business No Cure

Two years ago the condition of the American railroads was declared in a state of crisis and the problems have not been remedied.

Some of the trouble was charged to competition of air travel. In 1959 the switch of passengers from rail to air helped the airlines earn $59 million.

This year the airlines, still holding their patronage, lost $5 million the first six months. Now the major airlines are experiencing a crisis. That makes two elements of the nation transportation service in trouble.

No doubt heavy investments for new, bigger and faster planes contributed to the airlines trouble. Flying is a fast, changing business and obsolescence is an expensive thing. But one thing is certain, vitiating the passenger income for the railroads made the latter sicker but it didn't keep the airlines healthy. In fact they got sicker, too.

This is truly a dilemma when it is considered that autos and trucks are streaming down the highways in constantly growing numbers and neither the airlines nor the railroads are apt to get business away from the highways.

One could say, let competition settle the matter in the good old way. Let the fittest survive and let the unfit go down. But the trouble is all three modes of transportation are fittest in their field and a secure and well served country cannot do without any of them. Moreover, competition has shifted patronage this way and that, but it has not solved anything.

One thing is evident. The field of transportation cannot successfully be separated into parts and treated accordingly. It is a problem of the whole and cannot be handled by benefits to one at the expense of the other.

Mr. K. Is Coming

If there is anything or anyone the U.S. is more tired of or disgusted with, it is Premier Nikita Khrushchev of Russia. Thus, he will hardly be welcome in the United States when he comes to the September session of the United Nations. If America had her way, she might well say to Mr. K., "Please stay home," but the situation is not quite that simple.

For one thing, Khrushchev is technically coming to the U.N., and this somewhat limits our jurisdiction in the matter. Secondly, he would be little inclined to honor our desires in the matter, anyhow. So it leaves little for us to do but accept the situation as the Russian premier has dictated it. This, of course, raises again the question of what we should have done some time ago when Khrushchev first mentioned the possibility of attending the opening U.N. general assembly meeting.

There are reports, unconfirmed by any officials, that President Eisenhower did not discourage the Red's visit because of advice to that effect from Vice President Nixon. The report was that Nixon hoped to capitalize politically on the visit. This would come about as Nixon and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, were pitted against the Kremlin leader in U.N. debate.

If this is true, it would be about the rankest kind of political maneuvering that the country has ever seen. It would seem that the vice president would want to clear the matter up if the report is unfounded. While this question is pending, it might also be wondered what we have been doing about the visit since it was first known to us.

With official announcement of the visit, the U.S. appears to be completely without any plans to counteract the Russian move. Certainly, we have had more than ample time to conclude what we would do when and if the Russian leader did decide to come to New York. But instead, we have again given all the initiative to the Communists.

Scrutiny The Candidates Will Face On Television

NEW YORK — A recent poll of American women voters indicates that of all the traits a presidential candidate may have — honesty, integrity, shrewdness, brilliance, diplomacy — what the females consider most important is "sincerity."

This obviously demonstrates the influence of television. Now that candidates appear rather regularly on TV, every viewer seems to have become a lay detective analyst.

They scrutinize the prospect carefully, challenging him to show a sign of "phoniness" or "political dishonesty." (Another survey, results recently released, showed that in a typical county in Michigan, more than half the adult population thought of politics as "dirty.")

Quite often now, what a candidate has to say is obscured by how he looks. We are all so vitally aware, having been told dozens of times, that the video screen will show up every personality flaw, every inkling of insincerity, every nuance of nervousness, every hint of sham.

As a consequence, we're just sitting there waiting for the revelatory booboo; hoping to catch a false twitch in a smile, or a tell-tale blink of an eye, to tell us which is the more "sincere" man — Nixon or Kennedy.

The issue, it would appear in many minds, is not so much what a man thinks — but how earnest he looks when he's thinking it. It is the era of method acting politics.

We hope, when the big television debate between the candidates comes about, they will both be in perfect health. Because fighting a migraine can bring an expression of pseudo well-being to the eyes, and a stomach upset can falsify a smile.

Of course, if both candidates do a real sincere job that night, it'll be rough. We may have to take time out to study what they've said, weigh their extra-facial qualifications, consult our consciences, and make a selection the old fashioned way—almost as if they'd never discovered that wonderful, entertaining non-partisan decision-maker: television.

It's so much easier to choose a president because he's got all the wholesome attributes of Garry Moore . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, there's another way of selecting — and that's by analyzing the potential First Ladies.

We don't know anybody personally who votes on the basis of the woman-behind-the-president, but a Cowles publication called "The insider's Newsletter" does.

In their current issue they report "the juicy core of current grapevine gossip is 'What U.S. Women Don't Like About the First Lady Contenders.' "

The "grapevine gossip" claims we don't like: Jacqueline Kennedy's French hairdo and ultra high-fashion wardrobe; and Pat Nixon's "fixed" smile.

"American women," says the letter, "have developed a distinct concept over the years of what the First Lady ought to be like — and they don't want her too far out of the ordinary — to chic, too efficient or too nearly perfect."

Rather have sincere slouches, it seems . . .

Nebraska Boosters

Howells, Neb.

I have faith in Nebraska. I trust her to reveal within the next three weeks two exceptional men, one to run for governor and the other for U.S. senator, men of the caliber that become revered.

Too long Nebraska has suffered from accession to positions of importance by over-eager, pettifogging men. We woefully need profitable office-holders, not mere clock-watchers, those with a will to get us a prideful place in the galaxy of 50 states.

For senator we need a man fit to confer in the greatest parliament on earth. The incumbent has made us sick and tired. As far as the people are concerned, he is overdue for replacement, but as of now he has no tangible opposition.

There is time until Sept. 17 or 18 to file on party lines by petition.

True Liberals

Omaha, Neb.

Stephen E. Abbott (Star, Sept. 2) wrote on this same subject. He is to be complimented on his attempt to clear the air in a much confused area. Unfortunately, he has added to the confusion because of common basic misconceptions. The opposite of socialism is individualism. The socialist wants society or the group to solve the problems. The individualist will solve his own problems. The socialist wants to arrive at a monopolistic majority decision. The individualist can agree to group action but only on a voluntary basis and with no coercion of dissenting minorites.

The great American Revolution was found for freedom. We had enjoyed freedom and prosperity for over 100 years because of the indifference of British monarchs. When George III decided he was going to solve the problems of the kingdom and passed thousands of laws to effectuate that end, we revolted to retain the freedom we enjoyed. Our constitution was an attempt to limit the government and make it responsibe to the people in those limited areas of power. This historical document has been eroded until we have reached the point where government reaches into every phase of our life.

Mr. Abbott assumes that our progress is because of our government. This misconception has been with mankind from its first recorded history. Our progress has been made because of one singular factor. We have had more freedom than any other nation in history. When men are free and can produce and keep the products of their labor, progress is made. Government does not produce; government consumes or limits individuals from producing what they want to produce.

I agree with Mr. Abbott the terms liberal and conservative are often times misleading. The term liberal is derived from the same word as liberty and should be the label for a person in favor of individual liberty. The modern day liberal is just the opposite. He prefers to reach monopolistic majority decisions in the solution of so-called problems and coerce the dissenting minority to join in paying for the solution at monopolistic prices by depriving them of their God given right to the fruits of their labor. We call this taxation. Is this liberty?

If you describe a conservative as one who wishes to conserve our founding fathers' basic ideas of freedom and permit progress to come from the only possible source, the market place, then really a so-called conservative of today is actually a liberal in the true meaning of the word.

Bus Service

Lincoln, Neb.

Several hundred working people have struggled getting rides to work ever since last March, with the present bus service too far to reach by walking. Now there are shorter days and cold bad weather ahead of us again. It seems as if our City Council would do everything possible to improve the transportation on O Street where it belongs. O Street is a direct route into the city and out to Veterans Hospital.

Meanwhile our Council works on ways to raise our taxes and decides on a raise in salaries for some officials. They all had raises last year. Where does all the meter money go? I think our city, state and county books should have been checked two years ago. The general taxes should be sufficent for all the current needs.

[illegible] control is a serious one, more serious than the matter of salary raises for those not needing them while the aged people exist on pensions that are inadequate.

The working people, the aged and handicapped would be most grateful for good public transportation to get downtown. The present bus system needs some competition.

And we don't need any more experts hired to come in and show us how to run the city.

Verbal Food

Lake Worth, Florida

Your C.G.C. seems going strong
In vitriolic verse.
Still putting folks where they belong
His wit so sharp and terse.

There must be super-duper skill
In that lunch counter place
To have so many things to fill
A guest with such ill-grace.

Such berated drinks and eats
Would take fortitude to swallow
Yet greater gastronomic feats
The poet's words to follow.

ERLE A. SULLIVAN

Off THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

'Elmer' Likes Treatment He Gets At The Fair

My names Elmer. What's yours?

I'm a 4-year-old buck deer from Your Town, Nebraska.

Gee whiz,, I'm so excited at being at the State Fair with the Game Commission people. They're real nice and they sure do know how to treat a young buck.

Why, I've had more good things to eat and I've met just thousands of wonderful folks like you.

Gosh, I only wish this could last forever.

But, next week I'll be heading back home.

Oh, don't get me wrong. It'll be nice to see all my pals and relatives again, but you see this could be my last visit to Lincoln.

It won't be too long before nearly 100,000 deer like myself will have to take to the bushes. Hunting season opens Nov. 5.

Just yesterday I hear Mel Steen, the game commissioner say that nearly 14,000 hunters will be on our tracks this year.

It sure looks like a long winter. Guess you understand why I'm sorta dreadin' to head back home.

Last winter, both mom and sister, Anne, met their end near the Nebraska-Colorado border. That sure was a sad day for me and dad.

Don't feel bad, finish that hotdog, because with any luck at all, I'll be back again next September.

So long, friend.

Why She Tours

Hollywood (AP)—Singer Anna Maria Alberghetti is spending the summer touring tent shows. Why? "There are several reasons," she says. "First there's a live audience. You don't have to fight forks and knives as in night clubs." What's more, she says, it'll be great experience "because in 3 months I'll be able to do 4 different shows —'Kismet,' 'Fanny,' 'Rosemarie,' and 'Firefly'." She ultimately wants to be on the Broadway stage. "I would like to do something with good acting in it and also good music."

She devotes most of her time to popular and semi-popular music. "I wouldn't be happy just doing opera . . . Opera wouldn't get rid of all my frustrations.

135,000 Graduates

Tokyo (AP) — Radio Peiping reports 135,000 students were graduated this year from universities and colleges in Communist China.

No Need To Be Sheepish

Fred Ricenbaw of Friend, shown here with two of his prize wooleys, had no reason to be "sheepish" at the Nebraska State Fair. Fred's entries snagged 3 purple ribbons in the 4-H Sheep Show. One purple was for a Southdown market lamb; another for a Shropshire market lamb and a third for a pen of 3 market lambs.

Cure For Communistic Threat Told At Mass

"The one thing that will stop this prairie fire of Communism are the teachings of Christ lived in the lives of men," Father Rawley Myers, editor of the Southern Nebraska Register, stated Monday at the 3rd annual Labor Day Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral.

"Communism today has become more than a labor movement or an economic theory. It is a religion, a religion of irreligion but a religion nonetheless. You cannot destroy a religion with bombs and bullets," he emphasized.

"We can stockpile atomic bombs from here to heaven—and though this is a necessary stop-gap measure for defense—it can never be the final answer to Communism," Father Myers said.

The Catholic newspaper editor stated, "The only thing that can quench the hatred of Communism is the love of Christ. The only thing that can truly turn back the rampaging waters of Communist world conquest is the equally revolutionary teaching of Christ concerning the brotherhood of men."

Must 'Put On' Christ

"What we need today more than anything else are God-fearing men who have the courage to walk with Christ every hour of the day. We must, each of us, in the words of St. Paul, 'put on Christ.' He must be with us, not simply on Sunday, but every day, in all things that we do," he added.

Bishop George J. Biskup, auxiliary bishop of Dubuque, Ia., offered the Solem Pontifical Mass of St. Joseph the Workman at the Labor Day Mass.

Others assisting in the service were: the Knights of St. Gregory and Knights of Columbus, honor guard; Father John J. Flynn, V. F. pastor of St. Mary's, assistant priest; Msgrs. C. J. Crowley and M. M. Kaczmarek, assistant deacons; Father Benedict Kalin, deacon; Father Lloyd Keefner, O. I. M. subdeacon; Father Stanley J. Schieffer, subdeacon of the cross, and Fathers Max G. DeWitt, Robert F. Sheay and James D. Dawson, masters of ceremonies.

Harry Hurls At The Head Of Nixon In Ballyard Blast

Marion, Ind. (AP) — Former president Harry S. Truman stood on a baseball diamond Monday and threw oratorical beanballs at Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Truman told a Labor Day rally audience estimated by police at 20,000 the best he could see from election of a Republican ticket Nov. 8 would be "4 more years of backing and filling."

At Worst

"At the worst — and far more likely," he said, "it would lead to depression and to real disaster."

The 76-year-old former chief executive didn't appear bothered by humid 90-degree heat, as he delivered fast pitches at Nixon from a platform erected near the pitcher's mound in Matter Park.

A perspiring audience seated in the outfield, many of them standing, interrupted Truman several tiimes with lusty cheering.

"The best I find it possible to say about the Republican opportunist who now wants to be president is that in his hands the happy and honorable art of politics has become a dismal science. He is cunning and he is clever, and he may be a skillful debater; but I challenge you to name for me a single measure bearing his name that offers any comfort and hope for working people or their families, for the aged, the underprivileged or the unemployed.

"This campaign, as usual, finds the Republican candidate playing that old game in which the hand is quicker than the eye. After a career of devoted service to the special interests who grub-staked him, he wants you to believe that he is just a do-gooder at heart.

"While he stands at the front door proclaiming charity and tolerance, his supporters are herding the forces of racial, religious and anti-union bigotry in by way of the back door. And no one will ever make me believe he is not smart enough to know what is going on."

Check Record

Discussing Nixon's experience, Truman suggested checking his voting record.

"If you want a president who has a lot of experience in being against the things you are for, then vote for him," Truman said.

The Democratic ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Truman said, is needed to provide leadership for a Democratic congressional majority "large enough to overcome any coalition of reactionary forces."

A majority in Congress is not enough, he added. "The burden and powers of leadership rest upon the occupant of the White House. For almost 8 years we have been witnessing a trend in the conduct of our government that spells trouble for us now and for generations to come."

Truman reminded his listeners that he opposed Kennedy before the Democratic national convention.

Shown

"I am from Missouri, you know, and I have to be shown," Truman continued. "Well, he showed me. He proved to my satisfaction that he had what it takes to be a winning candidate and a good president—a lot of honest, old-fashioned courage, for one thing, and the vital quality of forecful, forthright leadership for another."

On domestic matters, Truman said the farm program cost $1.1 billion in 1950-51, "now it is $6.5 billions and farm prices go down, down. Parity is out the window."

The national debt was raised to 257 billion by the Korean War, he said, and its service charge was 5½ billion.

"Now the debt is admitted to be above 290 billion and it is much more with a service charge of 9½ billion. What a record!

"The raising of interest rates has cost the taxpayers, the little people, more than 20 billion.

"Who now taxes and taxes and spends and spends?

"The money lenders now do the taxing on a closed basis—only they profit, not the people who have to borrow."

Truman said one of the real issues in Indiana is "this misnamed, so called 'right-to-work' law. This law, and the others like it, have but one real objective —to cripple the trade unions and make them weaker in speaking for their members."

He said Republicans in Indiana "have planted the right-to-work knife in the back of labor, with the sure promise that it will be twisted further if the Republicans get another chance."

Poor Jock Is Rescued

Glyncorrwg, Wales (UPI) — Jock the Sheepdog will get a two-week rest and recuperation leave before returning to his herding chores, farmer Trevor Davies said Monday.

Engineer Bill Wood, who rescued Jock from 100 feet down in an abandoned mine shaft Saturday, will get a gold medal and 20 pounds ($56) from a 100,000-pounds ($280,000) treasury made available for the rescue.

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is in bad favor with the villagers because it tried to save Jock and after failing, tried to poison him of mercy.

Monday, 6-year-old Jock was rested, fed and bathed after his 8-day ordeal in the shaft. A small cut on his nose was the only visible evidence of the fall that nearly cost his life.

Early attempts to rescue him were given up as "too dangerous." after an RSPCA inspector couldn't get him out Thursday, the society asked and got Davies' permission to lower poisoned meat to the animal.

The meat went down but wise old Jock knew better than to eat it.

On Saturday, when it was discovered Jock was still alive, the National Canine Defense League announced it stood ready to spend its entire treasury of 100,000 pounds ($282,000) in rescue efforts.

The South Wales Caving Club also had become interested in Jock's plight. A team led by Wood, 39, went into the earth and returned minutes later with the dog, wet, hungrey and filthy from his stay with floating rubbish.

All Telephone Numbers Will Change December 4, 1960 in the following exchanges

Bennet	Dorchester	Malcolm
Cordova	Friend	Pleasant Dale
Davey	Greenwood	Raymond
Denton	Huskerville	Waverly

Effective December 4, all telephone numbers in the above exchanges will have seven numerals. In most cases changes will be made by adding numerals to the present numbers.

This new numbering system of seven numerals (instead of a combination of two letters and five numerals) is known as "All-Number Calling." It is being introduced gradually throughout the nation to increase the number of telephone numbers available for direct distance dialing.

Telephone directories will be published at the above exchanges the first part of December to include the new numbers.

If you have a telephone at one of these exchanges, we thought you would want to know this now so you would not stock up too far ahead on stationery and other printed material on which your telephone number appears.

Your telephone business office will be glad to answer any further questions that you may have.

HOT RETORTS READIED FOR NIK

By John Scali

Washington (AP)— The United States will fire back in blistering language if Russia's Nikita S. Khrushchev—as now seems likely—adopts a boastful, antagonistic line in his United Nations appearance.

As things now shape up, the chief American spokesman will be Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, not President Eisenhower who will stay at the White House virtually ignoring Khrushchev's presence.

Other Western foreign policy chiefs are expected to join in replying to what is expected to be a new phase in the Soviet leader's continuing anti-Western barrage.

But, under a plan now taking form, these spokesmen will be mainly of foreign ministers rank—to show Khrushchev he cannot force their chiefs into a free-wheeling East-West debate anytime he wants.

Diplomatic authorities who reported the West's plan to reply in tit-for-tat language viewed Khrushchev's just-concluded Finland visit as a further sign he has set up his New York visit to make propaganda rather than talk seriously.

He is due to attend the U.N. General Assembly session that will open Sept. 20. Just when he will arrive has not been disclosed.

Under the guise of pleading for world disarmament, it is anticipated, Khrushchev will shape his remarks to woo new African countries, encourage Cuba's Fidel Castro, plug neutralism and boast of Russia's scientific achievements.

Khrushchev's talk in Helsinki about American spy planes has bolstered suspicion he will revive the U2 incident, plus the downing of an American RB47 plane, to assail what he calls the West's hostile policies.

Khrushchev's performance in Finland appears to have hardened American plans for dealing with his decision to invite himself to the United Nations with the reported aim of discussing disarmament.

Responsible officials who said only a few days ago that Eisenhower would agree to meet in Washington with Khrushchev—if the Soviet leader asked—now say Eisenhower would do so under certain conditions.

Eisenhower might ask first for Khrushchev to promise to free the two American RB47 fliers the Soviets are now holding in jail on spy charges, these officials said Monday.

Further, these informants said Eisenhower would not rush up to the United Nations to give a swift reply to Khrushchev as soon as he left the country.

Eisenhower's reply probably will come several weeks later, they said, barring any surprise move by Khrushchev. Herter and other Western spokesmen on the scene are viewed as capable of answering Khrushchev's comments until then.

These authorities, meanwhile, expressed satisfaction at signs that Khrushchev's demand for a U.N. summit conference on disarmament has failed to produce any stampede by free world leaders to go to New York.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who is looked on as the key figure in the West's attitude, will join in what amounts to a Western boycott of Khrushchev's appearance, it is now believed.

Mr. Mac Set To Replace Ike

By Hal Cooper

Gleneagles, Scotland (AP)— The impending retirement of Mr. Dwight D. Eisenhower will leave Mr. Harold Macmillan as the Western world's leading golfer-statesman. It is a pleasure to report he is ready.

Mr. Mac is, in fact, a double threat. His wife, Lady Dorothy, plays about as well as he does. This is more than can be said of Mamie Eisenhower, who to the best of our knowledge and belief is a golf widow.

We have just run the tape over Mr. Mac's form during a round he played on the King's Course here. He is erratic off the tee, but his short game is deadly.

This will come as no news to his Labor Party opposition in the House of Commons. His shorr game in parliament is terrific.

(Mr. Macmillan's replies to questions he does not choose to answer are so short and stripped of information, or even meaning, that they leave laborites half swooning from frustration.)

Mr. Mac appeared on the first tee of the King's Course wearing dark brown trousers and shoes, a light brown cap, a buff wind breaker and an air of grave determination.

The prime minister, who has an odd bent-knee stance, topped his drive, and it traveled barely 180 yards. Lady Dorothy outdrove him by 10 yards. But she dubbed her approach to the green and Mr. Mac won the hole with a bogey 5 against her 6.

After playing 18 holes, Mr. Mac gallantly reported that he and Lady Dorothy had halved the match.

From other sources—and they were well paid for the information—it was learned that the prime minister shot an 84 and Lady Dorothy an 87.

This puts Mr. Mac right up there with Ike. While no sources have been bribeable around Ike, he is said to be able to shoot a good mid-80 when he is on his game.

E. German Chief Suffers Collapse, Condition Serious

Berlin (UPI) — Wilhelm Pieck, 84-year-old president of Communist East Germany, collapsed Monday and his condition is considered "very serious," it was officially announced.

Pieck has not appeared in public since New Year's day, 1957, after several strokes. He has been confined since then to his official residence.

A medical bulletin signed by 4 doctors was issued by the official East German news agency ADN.

"The medical condition of the president of the (East) German Democratic Republic, Wilhelm Pieck," it said, "has worsened as a result of a sudden weakening of the heart. As a result of the simultaneous rising of the body temperature to 38.4 centigrade (101 fahrenheit), his condition is considered very serious."

Shine 'Em Up

Cleveland (UPI) — The shoe shine business is big business. Industry sources say Americans buy about 300 million cans and bottles of shoe polish every year. This adds up to about 10 billion polishings each year. All this buffing leads Americans to spend about $75 million just to keep their shoes shined.

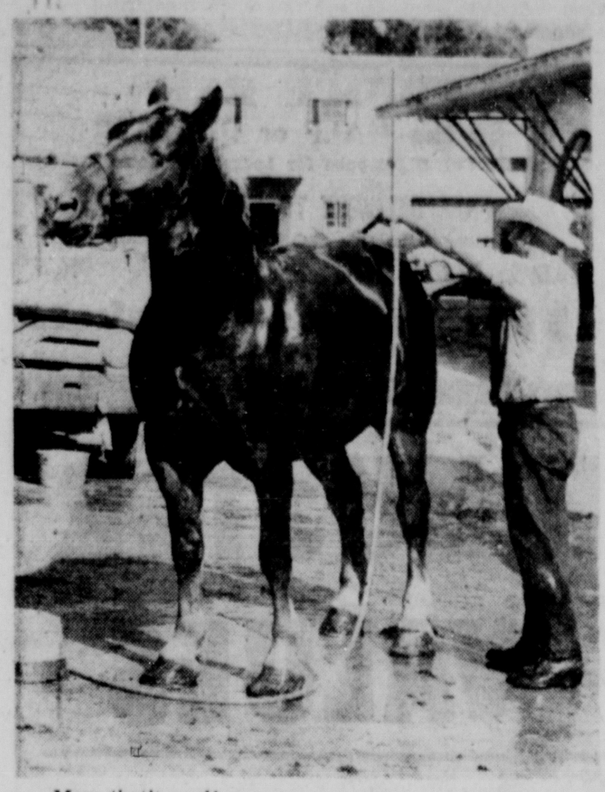
Keeping Cool At Fair



Man, that's cool!

This Belgian draft horse belonging to Eldred Pierce of Oakland, Ia., was the coolest horse—or person—at the Nebraska State Fair thanks to Willis Lippold of Oakland.

The mammoth animal, placidly soaking in the cool, clear water, is one of over 60 draft horse entries at the fair this year.

As temperatures soared into the high 90s, other owners pressed electric fans into use—not for themselves but for their prize entries.

Human beings resorted to ice cream cones, breezy rides on the ferris wheel, free ice water at the Republican headquarters, and ice cold watermelon to beat the heat.

Needlework, Sewing Entries Many, Varied

Variety in entries and a larger range of categories marked the open class needlework and sewing competition at the 1960 State Fair.

Entrants and winners included 10-year-old Maurine McGreer of Big Springs who took a first premium on a knitted hat entered in the youth division, and a second place on knitted cuffs in the same division.

One novelty entry which drew major attention was a 9 by 7-foot crocheted American flag, 50-star variety, which won a first premium for a North Platte man, Howard Saunders, who made it.

Another male entrant, a 72-year-old former Wyoming rancher, who now lives in Falls City, Van Meluney, took a second premium for his tatted doily.

Mrs. Richard Evers of Syracuse spent 800 hours, used 56 spools of thread and crocheted 1,564 squares to produce a white tablecloth which took first premium in its class, and a purple grand champion ribbon.

Sunday School Puzzle

Philadelphia (AP) — A mystery has developed in the United Lutheran Church. The number of its Sunday schools and teachers have increased in the past year, but the number of pupils has dropped. The church has launched a study to find out why.

Pen Fair Booth Indicates Inmates Seldom Idle

By Gene Budig

Idle moments are few at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

Proof of this rests in the penitentiary's display booth at the 91st annual Nebraska State Fair here.

Up for public inspection are products assembled and tooled by prison inmates.

Includes Canning

Filling the display shelves are canned goods, sheet metal products, furniture, print work and clothing.

"It's as good as you see anywhere," J. E. Mabie, field auditor for the Board of Controls claimed.

Mabie and Charles L. Wolff, Jr., prison superintendent, are manning the crowd-pleasing booth.

"The quality of these garments and goods is proof of the constant efforts being made throughout all shops in an attempt to improve the present products," he said.

Mabie also said that competent personnel and proper equipment play a key role in the success of the manufacturing operation.

"It means a lot to the inmates to have their goods selected to be exhibited at the fair. They work for this honor all year," he added.

200 Take Part

More than 200 inmates take part in the industries program which is designed to:

1. Manufacture products that can be used in other state institutions and agencies.

2. Keep inmates busy as well as happy.

The board member also pointed out that "teaching these men trades will assure them of a happy and useful life after they are released."

Leave Well-Dressed

It also assures inmates of a well-dressed departure from prison.

Upon release, each inmate is given an up-to-date, prison made dress suit and top coat.

The actual display booth in the west section of the Coliseum was set up by the inmates.

"It's entirely their display," Mabie noted.

Hillary Hopeful

Darjeeling, India (AP) — Sir Edmund Hillary and Tensing Norgay, co-conquerors of Mt. Everest, had a week-end reunion here and talked over Hillary's coming Himalayan expedition. One of the topics discussed was the legendary Abominable Snowman or Yeti. "We are going to have a jolly good try to catch him alive," Hillary said, "and if not that, at least to photograph him."

Opposition Voiced

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do about our daughter. She is 27, divorced and has a 5-year-old child. She and the child have been living at home since her marriage break-up.

She sleeps all day, reads love magazines and watches TV. She won't hunt for a job. I care for her child and do all the cooking, housework and laundry. She won't even rinse out her own stockings. She gets alimony but spends it all on clothes. I never saw a penny from her. She goes with men and stays out until its light outside. Please, tell me what to do with her. Our pastor gave up.

TIRED OUT MOTHER

DEAR TIRED: You may think you are helping your daughter, but you are only helping her to be lazy, immoral and irresponsible. Tell her the free ride is over. If she had to get a job and raise her own child, perhaps she would do it. If she is spoiled beyond recovery, try to salvage her child and raise it properly. A 27-year-old "child" is past the training stage.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I sat next to a very attractive girl in a luncheonette. I smiled at her and she smiled back. I offered her a cigarette and she accepted. We exchanged small-talk and I liked her right off the bat, and I think she liked me. I got her name, but not her telephone number. I keep thinking about her and have gone back to the same luncheonette in hopes of seeing her again, but I never have. Is there any way to find her?

SEARCHING

DEAR SEARCHING: That is what you call an "incomplete pass". If she's not listed in the telephone directory, you're out of luck.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: A young girl who lives in my building just had a baby. She was "married" only six months. She said the doctor said it was premature but it weighed over seven pounds and had all its fingernails and eyelashes and didn't have to go into an incubator. This girl must have made medical history if she's telling the truth. Also she has black hair and so has her husband and the baby's hair is bright red. She named the baby after a guy who gave her cab fare to go to the hospital. Her husband (if they are married) is dumb enough to believe anything. Do you think this setpup is all right?

MINNIE

DEAR MINNIE: It's all right with me. What's YOUR problem?

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: You were much too gentle with that teen-ager who looked at her mother with hate in her eyes and said, "I don't owe you anything because I didn't ask to be born!" If I were you, I'd have told that mother to reply, "That's right, and I didn't have to raise you, either—I could have sent you to a home for motherless children to be raised."

FAST THINKER

DEAR ABBY: When I was 22 I started dating a married man. We fell in love. I stuck with him for 16 years because I always had the feeling he would divorce his wife. He never did. I am now 38.

I have no friends and no outside interests. My own family won't have anything to do with me. Please, Abby, tell those nice little single girls for me that if a married man shows an interest in them to RUN THE OTHER WAY! All I have for my sixteen years is a broken heart, broken promises and a few presents.

TOO LATE

DEAR TOO: I will print your letter with the hope that some young woman will read it and profit from your very expensive lesson. It's here for the price of this newspaper.

In A Hurry To Be Modern

Fourteen hours flying time — by jet — not only brought Miss Mercedes Ames home to Lincoln from half-way around the world in Turkey, it also transported her from a nation of striking contrasts, of ancient cultures and of a people in a desperate hurry to be modern.

For the last two years, Miss Ames has been an instructor in English in a Turkish college at Samsun on the Black Sea. At the end of her short holiday, she will leave in mid-September to return to her post, this time, however, at a college in Diyarbakir, a more remote area in southern Turkey.

Miss Ames's experiences in Turkey have been those of most Americans stationed in far-off lands with the exception that as a woman and a teacher, she has had daily contact with the young people and has had the opportunity to meet their families and especially the Turkish women, traditionally secluded and sheltered in that nation.

The college at Samsun, Turkey's largest harbor on the Black Sea, is one of six English-language colleges established by the government only five years ago in an effort to teach the nation's youth both the English language and the ways of the western nations.

The first day of class was a baffling one for both Miss Ames and her students—she had only a smattering of Turkish phrases, which did not include, "Sit down," or "Keep still," and the young Turks understood not one word of English. The former Lincoln resident said, however, that with their first few English phrases, the students would quickly try out their new knowledge on the Americans stationed at nearby US Air Force bases with the result that they brought back to class American slang of which they could well have remained ignorant.

Miss Ames' students, incidentally, were all male. There are no college coeds in Turkey as the government, desperately trying to overcome the nation's illiteracy and with limited funds, is educating the men first.

Although Turkish women of Istanbul and Ankara are modern, educated and unveiled, Miss Ames observed that the majority in the nation still wear their veils, follow the old customs and occupy a secondary position in the community and family.

Ankara, the "new" capitol of Turkey, is one of the most modern cities of the world with beautiful buildings, markets and shops which compare favorably with New York, but Miss Ames was startled to see the family laundry flying from the balconies of 20th century apartments.

During short school holidays, Miss Ames often joined groups of European and American instructors for tours of the country, one of which included a trip to a famous and centuries-old cave city. Rising from a barren landscape, the cliffs are riddled with cave "homes," carved out of the soft sandstone.

In order to see the beautiful murals of the famous "hidden" church high in the cliff face once occupied by Greek monks, Miss Ames and her group had to climb a narrow goat trail that was almost perpendicular. She was on the point of giving up when she overheard the young, disapproving Turkish guide say in Turkish, "She can't make it." She did make it, and that simply added to the guide's low opinion of a lone woman touring with a group of men and being so unfeminine as to climb cliffs.

Miss Ames, who is pictured with a 100 year-old, woolen rug which she brought home with her, is eager to return for her second term of teaching and exploring. "However," she said, "it would take a lifetime to see Turkey."

Party--A Labor Day Tradition

One of the events always anticipated by the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gates Minnick is the traditional Labor Day picnic for which Mr. and Mrs. Minnick are host and hostess when they entertain at the cabin on the DuTeau farm.

Yesterday as you know, was Labor Day, and Mr. and Mrs. Minnick invited 46 guests for a 4:30 o'clock-on affair which included a picnic supper later in the evening.

Relaxing on the cabin porch are (from the left): Mrs. Joe Carter, Dr. Harold Maude, Mrs. Gates Minnick, Joe Carter and Mrs. Maude.

Wedding

An interesting announcement this morning is that of the marriage of Mrs. Reed W. Compton to Edwin W. Irvine, formerly of Axtell, Kan.

The ceremony was solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 3, in the chapel at the First Presbyterian Church, with Dr. C. Vin White solemnizing the service.

Following a trip to Colorado Springs—and the Broadmoor—Mr. and Mrs. Irvine will reside at 3421 E Summit Blvd., in Lincoln.

STRING-RING

String-savers, attention: Mrs. Henry Graham of Des Moines, Ia., winds string on an empty adhesive tape holder, pops the cover on — and presto! String can't unwind in the "odds and ends" drawer.

SEPTEMBER SOLILOQUY

Summer's nearly escaped — I hardly know where it went! But new Summer pleasures remain at our home...the gaslites, glowing along the patio...the gas dryer, allowing us to forever-free the yard of cluttered clotheslines . . . the "Gold Star" gas range, giving more time to enjoy each season. Any season is reason enough for modern gas appliances! See them at your local gas company or gas appliance dealer.

STORMY SUGGESTION

I like the suggestion sent by Mrs. Bridgetta Frauenholtz of Madelia, Minn., but not the prompting thought! Storm window weather will soon be here. When you wash storm windows, stroke "crossways" on one side, "lengthways" on the other. Now it's easy to tell which side still has streaks!

A GIFT FROM ME TO YOU

Like to have a FREE gift, compliments of Northern and your local gas company? It's a set of two general purpose Hosiery Dryers. Convenient, practical, beautiful. Made of unbreakable, soft, ever-so-gentle Polyethylene in Venetian tint colors. Each dryer is designed to hold two pairs of hose or gloves, four handkerchiefs. Or use one or two for hanging lingerie and slacks. To get yours, write now to Constance Flame, Northern Natural Gas Company, 2223 Dodge St., Omaha 1, Nebraska. I'd appreciate it if you'd tell me in what newspaper you read this offer. Just one set per request while supply lasts. If you have a favorite recipe or household hint, send it along.

MILLION-MARK MEMO

Northern Natural Gas Company has reached the "million-mark"! Utilities now served by Northern serve over 1,000,000 homes in 444 communities. More neighbors in Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wisconsin now enjoy the comfort, convenience and economy of natural gas. Northern is the pipeline supplier to your local gas company, and also brings this column to you!

FRIDAY TIDBIT

From my own recipe file, a never-fail favorite for Fridays or late-snacks: Combine 1 cup cooked, cleaned shrimp, 2 diced hard-boiled eggs, 2 Tbsp. diced celery, 2 Tbsp. diced green pepper, 2 Tbsp. mayonnaise, 2 Tbsp. sour cream, 1 tsp. dry mustard, ½ tsp. salt, ⅛ tsp. pepper. Trim edges from six slices day-old bread. Toast under gas broiler. Turn over, butter lightly. Place 1-slice cheddar cheese on each. Divide shrimp mixture six ways; pile on top. Broil in gas broiler till golden and bubbly. Cut slices diagonally; serve at once.

A Bride On Monday

MRS. WAYNE HESTER

Bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses in white and pink touched with lavender formed the background in the First Methodist Church on Monday afternoon, Sept. 5, for the marriage of Miss Nancy Preston, daughter of Mrs. Phillip L. Preston and the late Mr. Preston, to Wayne Hester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen H. Hester. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Carl Davidson, and Mrs. Richard Collister, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Miss Gail Galloway.

Miss Phyllis Rolofson was the maid of honor and was frocked in amethyst blue delustered satin in the after-five length. She carried a crescent of pale pink roses. Costumed identically were the bridesmatron, Mrs. Robert Preston of Norfolk, and the bridesmaids, Miss Sara Christensen and Miss Sharon Janike.

Serving as best man was Mel Hester, and seating the guests were Don Casey of Johnson, George Rolofson and Jack Fager.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert L. Preston of Norfolk, and appeared in a gown of white silk organza over taffeta. Reembroidered Alencon lace, traced with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes contoured the shoulder-wide neckline and extended into the long, tapered sleeves. The lace motif also patterned the front of the sculptured bodice and continued into the bouffant skirt which ended in a train below a shepherdess pouf. A pearl crown held her veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Mr. Hester, a senior at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and N Club, and his bride will reside at 2000 B. Mrs. Hester is a former student at the University and a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Marriage Announced

At a 10 o'clock morning Saturday, Sept. 3, at St. Mary Magdalene Church in Omaha, Miss Helen Marie Weeks, daughter of Morris Gordon Weeks of Maryville, Mo., became the bride of John Edward Fifer, son of Mrs. and Mrs. John E. Fifer of Lincoln.

The couple will reside at 6402 No. 42nd St., in Omaha.

The bride is a former student at Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, Maryville, Mo. Mr. Fifer is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Delta Sigma Pi and Beta Gamma Sigma.

Opening lead—two of spades.

The squeeze in bridge is regarded by many players as a province reserved exclusively for the expert. It is the most dramatic of all plays, no doubt, but its difficulty has been greatly exaggerated.

The squeeze really operates by itself, though it does require a helmsman at the wheel. All that the declarer does is cash his tricks in the right order. If the setup is right, nature follows its course and the squeeze becomes effective.

This hand was played in a duplicate, where extra tricks pay a heavy premium. West led a spade and South could count ten sure tricks. Declarer could also feel confident of making an eleventh trick by taking a heart finesse against the queen. This was pretty sure to work because South was missing only 13 high-card points and East had opened the bidding, marking him with the queen of hearts.

So declarer won the king of spades with the ace, played a club to the queen, and led a low heart from dummy. When East played low, South finessed the jack. Declarer then cashed five more club tricks, which brought about this position:

When declarer now cashed the spade queen, discarding a diamond from dummy, East was squeezed. He could not spare a heart, so East discarded the king of diamonds.

South thereupon led the queen of diamonds and East took his one and only trick. South made twelve tricks as a result of the squeeze.

Declarer did nothing sensational during the play. The hand played itself, so to speak. The heart finesse was marked to succeed, and South simply cashed his winners. Nature took care of the rest.

Chamberlain Dies In Race Crackup

. . . BARTON RECOVERS, WINS FEATURE

By Al Beebe

Al Chamberlain, 28, of Altoona, Pa., died in St. Elizabeth's Hospital Monday night following a spectacular 4-car tangle at the State Fair big car races.

Chamberlain suffered severe head and neck injuries in the crash directly in front of the crowd of 7,000. The accident, the 2nd fatality in the history of big car racing here, occurred at the start of the Consolation Feature.

Chamberlain's red No. 25, owned by Chet Wilson of Wichita and 3rd fastest car in qualifying, flipped on its nose over the inside rail.

The car came to rest upside down on the concrete exit to the tunnel which passes beneath the track in front of the grandstand.

1st Since 1946

The last fatality on the State Fair track was in 1946, when Dave Champeau of Hollywood was killed in July 4 racing.

Chamberlain's death was the 2nd of the year on the IMCA circuit, after 3 years without a serious accident.

Chamberlain, whose wife of 3 months is in Altoona, ranked 15th in the last IMCA point standings 2 weeks ago, and had improved since then.

He joined the IMCA late this summer after ranking 2nd on an eastern circuit.

Chamberlain had been driving 10 years, the last 2 for the IMCA in big cars. He was 24th in the final point list last year.

Buzz Barton of Tampa, Fla., was involved in the accident, but came back to win the Feature race.

Green Flag Up

The green flag had barely been given the Consolation entries when the accident occurred. The cars hadn't yet entered the first turn.

Barton, starting in the back row, tried to ease through to a better position.

Ken Davis of Colorado Springs cut in front of Chamberlain, forcing Chamberlain off the track and also catching front-running Walt Wyromek of Los Angeles.

Whether Barton had bumped Davis in front of Chamberlain was a subject of much dispute among witnesses, with Wyromek and Barton later tangling in a brief pit scuffle.

Davis told starter Gene Van Winkle of Lincoln that he didn't know whether he was bumped or not, and Barton showed a tire mark as proof that he, too, was bumped.

Ironically, Chamberlain needn't have been in the race. Jerry Blundy of Galesburg, Ill., had qualified the car for the Feature in the 3rd heat, but Chamberlain wanted to drive, anyway.

In that 3rd heat, Chamberlain had taken over the car he owned and normally driven by his younger brother, John in an effort to qualify both cars.

John was also in the Consolation, but in the front rows and not involved in the accident. He went to the hospital with his brother.

Barton Continues

Barton's car was the only one of the 4 involved able to continue racing. He easily won the abbreviated Consolation, with the field trimmed to 5, to qualify for the Feature.

With a first report of Chamberlain's condition as satisfactory cheering the drivers just before the Feature started, the hot chauffeurs immediately put on one of the best racing shows seen here in years.

The Feature got off to a bad start when Bill Burdick of Kansas City, who won the first heat, spun out on the 3rd turn of the first lap, requiring a restart.

Moves Up

Barton, among the top 5 in IMCA competition this year, started in the 6th row but tooled his way forward quickly. He was 7th after one lap and into 4th by lap No. 5.

Herschel Wagner of Hickman Mills, Mo., was the frontrunner in the early going, and after 6 laps 4 cars were within a few lengths of each other—Wagner, IMCA champ Pete Folse of Tampa, Barton and then Jerry Shumaker of Wichita.

Shumaker dropped back briefly on lap No. 7 as Wagner, Folse and Barton passed the grandstand only a length apart. In the backstretch, both Wagner and Folse had trouble negotiating the turn and Barton shot ahead.

Once in front, Barton got daylight behind his red No. 52 Offy in a hurry, lapping several cars. Shumaker came back to take over second on the final 10 laps, with Wagner dropped back to 4th but then coming on to finish 3rd.

Folse slowly fell back, finally finishing no better than 7th.

The big cars take 2 days off now, returning Thursday for the wrapup, with late model stocks going 200 laps in the Friday show.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Swan Song

When Sherman Field's gates closed last night, it marked the 14th successive season of professional baseball in Lincoln since the post-war revival.

In this day and age, this fact must rank as some sort of a triumph. Many minor league cities have long since gone under, but the Chiefs have struggled on, finishing every season they started.

And there hasn't been an easy season for years. In fact, red ink is the only type stocked at Sherman Field. However, don't think a miracle has kept Lincoln in the league picture.

No sir! It's been fellows like A. Q. Schimmel, Vaulx Risser, other directors, many local businessmen who have dug into their pockets, loyal fans and others—all dedicated to the grand old game.

High praise this season belongs to Risser, who put forth tremendous effort to help keep the Chiefs in business. But many other—including general manager Roger Bottorff—deserve a back-slap.

And let's not forget Ira Hutchinson, the Chicago White Sox and the Chiefs themselves. Lincoln had a good ball club, a possible second-place team, if all goes well during the final series at Topeka.

Right now there's no way of knowing what the future will bring. There are many problems still confronting the Chiefs—actually the minor leagues—and they're dandies. Much depends on the major leagues, who can really solve the minor league difficulties if they're backed against the wall.

At this point, however, I'd like to thank the White Sox, Hutch, the players and everyone else who had a hand in keeping baseball alive in Lincoln during 1960.

And here's hoping Sherman Field's gates swing open again next spring. Lincoln without baseball—it wouldn't seem right.

Grid Talk

As usually happens, the backs got most of the ink after the Nebraska Cornhuskers' first scrimmage. But this doesn't mean the linemen were not impressive, too. The Huskers up front were firing out and hitting hard. All things considered, it was an encouraging performance—particularly since it was only the third day of practice. Veteran observers couldn't remember a slicker show so early in fall camp—and few later in the season . . . Injuries have cropped up around the Big 8 grid camps, and here's an area which will determine the course of the 1960 campaign. Loss of 3 top prospects cut Oklahoma State's squad to 49 and Missouri has lost its No. 2 quarterback . . . Kansas is expected to field one of the finest backfields in the nation, and few teams will have as much fullback depth as the Jayhawks. Doyle Schick, Norm Mailen and Fred Bukaty all have won two letters and John Suder has one monogram. Brooks Willis, a KU soph trying for a fullback job, is probably talking to himself these days . . .

AMERICANS SPLURGE FOR 5 GOLD MEDALS

Calhoun, Wilma, Boxers Triumph

. . . JOHNSON LEADS DECATHLON

By Oscar Fraley

Rome (UPI)—The United States went on a gold medal splurge in the Olympic Games Monday when Lee Calhoun and Wilma Rudolph scored victories in track and sluggers Cassius Clay, Eddie Crook and Wilbert McClure won boxing titles.

In other highlights for Uncle Sam, big Rafer Johnson of Kingsburg, Calif., took a slim 55-point lead over Formosa's C. K. Yang in the first 5 events of the decathlon and Otis Davis of Los Angeles set an Olympic record of 45.5 seconds for the 400-meter run in a semi-final heat.

The 3 gold medals in boxing were one more than the United States won in boxing at the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne and gave U.S. prestige a big boost.

Clay, the beanpole slugger from Louisville, Ky., nailed down the light-heavyweight title by scoring a unanimous decision over Zbigniew Pietrzqkowski of Poland.

McClure, Toledo, O., after seeming to be behind for two rounds, pulled out the light-middleweight title when he came out swinging in the 3rd round and battered Italy's Carmelo Bossi.

Crook, of Fort Campbell, Ky., took the middleweight crown by scoring a decision over Tadeusz Walasek of Poland.

Decathlon Focus

But a lot of the attention centered on the decathlon.

At the end of the first 5 events, which took 14 hours on this gloomy, rain-spattered day, Johnson, the world record holder, had a total of 4,647 points while Yang was pressing him hard with 4,592 points.

The slender Calhoun, from Gary, Ind., retained his hurdles title only by a photo finish over Willie May of Chicago in 13.8 seconds.

Nips Lauer

Hayes Jones of Pontiac, Mich., nipped Germany's highly-touted Martin Lauer in 14.0 seconds for the 3rd-place bronze medal to complete the sweep.

The long-legged Miss Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., added the women's 200-meter gold medal to the 100-meter title she won last week by speeding over the last 40 meters to a 24.0 clocking.

Davis, slender University of Oregon graduate from Los Angeles, zipped to victory in his semi-final of the men's 400-meter dash in 45.5 seconds, breaking the Olympic record of 45.9 seconds which he had tied in a trial heat.

The gold medals won by Calhoun and Miss Rudolph gave the United States 18.

Nina Ponomareva, the Russian girl who once was picked up for shoplifting in London during the 1948 Olympics, gave the Soviets their 20th gold medal of the games when she lifted the women's discus title with an Olympic record heave of 183 feet, 6¼ inches.

Miss Rudolph's triumph completed the 4th straight 100 and 200 meter "double" in women's track. Fanny Blankers-Koen of Holland did it in 1948 and the feat was duplicated by Australians Marjorie Jackson in 1952 and Betty Cuthbert in 1956.

However, the day also had its disappointments for the United States in track and field.

Bragg Qualifies

Pole vault world record holder Don (Tarzan) Bragg of Pennsville, N.J., easily qualified for the finals, floating over the required 14 feet, 5¼ on his first attempt.

But Ron Morris of Burbank, Calif., made the finals only on a technicality. The rules say there must be 12 finalists and, when only 10 cleared the required height, Morris and another man were added to the final field.

GARDNER 5TH

Rome (AP)—Keith Gardner of the British West Indies, former University of Nebraska runner, finished 5th in the finals of the Olympic 110-meter high hurdles Monday.

Gardner's time was :14.4.

Calhoun . . . Uses Head To Edge May At Wire.

CHIEFS DRAW 46,665 FANS

A Labor Day evening crowd of 1,458 boosted Lincoln's attendance figure to 46,665 as the Chiefs wound up their 1960 home Three-I League season at Sherman Field.

The Chiefs, in second place in the Three-I, trailed last place Topeka 4-2 after 7 innings.

Buccos, Braves Split; Stu Paces Pirate Win

. . . BUHL TAMES LEADERS IN SECOND GAME

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Milwaukee Braves split a Labor Day doubleheader Monday. The Pirates took the first game 9-7 on a 7-run outburst in the 4th inning and the Braves won the second 7-1 behind the 7-hit pitching of Bob Buhl.

A two-run homer by Don Hoak and a 3-run homer by Dick Stuart sparked the league-leading Pirates' 7-run rally in the opener. It was Hoak's 15th homer of the year and Stuart's 18th.

Buhl, picking up his 14th victory against 8 defeats, didn't give up an extra base blow. He fanned 4 and walked 3.

The Pirates got their lone run off him in the 6th on a single by Dick Groat, a walk and a single by Smoky Burgess.

Eddie Mathews drove in 3 runs for the Braves with his 32nd home run of the year in the first inning of the opener.

The Pirates chased Braves' starter Warren Spahn with their 7-run rally in the 4th.

Milwaukee rallied for two runs in the 9th on Del Crandall's triple with two aboard, but they failed to catch up.

Spahn charged with the loss, is now 17-8 for the year. Fred Green, the second of 4 Pirate hurlers, received credit for the victory and is now 7-4.

Bob Friend started for Pittsburgh but left in the 4th after giving up 6 hits and 4 runs.

A bases-loaded double by Chuck Cottier and a bases-loaded single by Mathews scored 4 Brave runs in the 4th to sack up the nightcap.

Pirate starter Harvey Haddix was charged with the second game loss and is now 10-9.

—YANKS GAIN ONE GAME—

Bombers Edge Boston Twice

New York (AP) — Pinch hitter Joe Demaestri singled home Johnny Blanchard with two out in the last of the 9th to give the New York Yankees a 3-2 second game victory and a sweep of Monday's doubleheader with Boston. The Yankees won the first game by the same 3-2 score.

The double triumph enabled the Yankees to narrow Baltimore's first place lead to a single game. The Orioles split with Washington.

Boston relief pitcher Mike Fornieles retired the first two Yankees in the 9th but then hit Blanchard with a pitch.

Gil McDougald's single sent Blanchard to 3rd and the big catcher scored when Demaestri, batting for Bobby Shantz, bounced a single over second base.

Fornieles, making his 60th relief appearance, was charged with his 5th loss. He has won 9. Shantz' record is 5-4.

The Yankees came from behind in each game. Trailing 2-0 in the opener, they scored 3 times in the 5th to take the lead.

Jim Coates, who hurled 5 scoreless relief innings, was credited with the victory, his 11th against 3 defeats. Bill Monbouqette dropped his 10th against 13 victories.

Austria Wins Medal

Rome, (AP) — Austria won its first gold medal of the 17th Olympic Games Monday when Hubert Hammerer took the 300-meter free rifle competition.

Hans Spillmann of Switzerland was second, and Russia's Vasily Borisov 3rd.

—DESPITE BROILING SUN—

Huskers Labor On Labor Day

By Don Bryant

Nebraska's Cornhuskers celebrated Labor Day by working—in the morning and afternoon, despite the broiling sun.

In the morning session, the Huskers went through their usual group work routine before Coach Bill Jennings ordered a short defensive scrimmage.

Then, in the afternoon, Jennings rationed out a similar dose of labor, only the emphasis was on the offense.

After viewing movies of last Saturday's scrimmage—9 touchdowns were registered—Jennings opined that he was "pleased with the work on assignments.

Likes QB Play

"I feel we played as well as we could after only 3 days of practice," Jennings said. "Of course, I was happy about the way the quarterbacks performed."

(The quarterbacks had a hand in 7 of the 9 TDs, with Pat Fischer firing two touchown passes and sprinting 70 yards for a 3rd.)

The Husker head man said movies indicatd what the coaches already knew—the defense is ahead of the offense at this stage.

"Our offense is coming along well, but we've got to do a lot more work on it," Jennings said.

There were no promotions, demotions or position changes after a study of the movies.

"We will continue shuffling people up and down, giving everyone a good look, before we settle on any starters," Bill said.

However, Jennings indicated he would make "every effort" to line up two separate units and play alternating units in the Texas opener, a week from Saturday.

Two-a-day practices will continue through this week, Jennings said, but there probably will be a slow-down next week.

On the injury scene, fullback R. J. Hamsa, who suffered a back injury Saturday, is still sidelined but there is nothing serious wrong with him. Steve Olsen, a heat victim, has rejoined the squad.

—BAKER WINS AFTER DISPUTED FINISH—

3 Die In Race Crash

Darlington, S.C. (AP) — Buck Baker was declared winner over Rex White Monday in a disputed finish to the $95,000 Southern 500-mile stock car race. The mixup between the two Spartanburg, S.C., drivers climaxed a race in which 3 men were killed following a crash of two cars.

White had been given the checkered victory flag, worth at least $10,000, but scorers said the flag was dropped two laps from the end of the race while Baker was a lap in front of White.

Two mechanics and a race official, inspector Joe Taylor of Patterson, N. J., were killed when two cars locked together on the backstretch and crashed into the pit about a ¼ of the way through the race.

The fatally injured mechanics, both of Atlanta, were Paul McDuffie and Charles Sweatlund.

Three other mechanics, also in the crew of driver Joe Lee Johnson of Chattanooga, Tenn., were injured and hospitalized.

Coupled with lap money, first place for 1953 winner Baker was worth about $22,000.

Home Runs Decide As Tigers, Indians Split

Detroit (AP) — Woodie Held got Barry Latman off to a fast start with a two-run homer in the first inning, and the young Cleveland righthander pitched his way to a 4-2 triumph over Detroit Monday in the second game of a double header.

Detroit won the opener, 4-3, on home runs by Charlie Maxwell and Norm Cash.

Latman spaced 5 hits in the night cap for his 5th victory in 10 decisions. The only damaging blow off him was Rocky Colavito's 28th home run, coming in the second inning with a mate aboard.

Cleveland pitchers allowed only 9 hits in the doubleheader and struck out 21 batters. Starter Jim Grant fanned 10 in 7 innings of pitching in the opener, and reliefer Don Newcombe struck out two of the 3 batters he faced.

A two-run homer by Maxwell, his 22nd, and a solo shot by Cash, his 16th, defeated Grant. Al Kaline drove in Detroit's other run.

Tito Francona drove in two of Cleveland's runs in the opener with a double and his 14th home run. A home run by Bubba Phillips accounted for the other.

Miller will meet Nick (The Phantom) Bockwinkel in one half of the double main event, while Pesek has matched himself against The Sheik, making his Lincoln debut.

The turbaned Arabian will have his harem queen, the Princess, on hand for support.

Semifinal action will see Misses Starr and Stafford meet Misses Glover and Rogers in a tag-team hair-puller.

In the opening spot will be Atlas versus Hagen.

Pott Cops In Playoff At Dallas

Dallas (AP) — Young Johnny Pott won his first major golf glory Monday when he beat veteran Ted Kroll on the 3rd hole of a 3-way playoff and captured $3,500 first money in the $25,000 Dallas Open.

Pott never had won a tournament in 4 years of campaigning.

Victory for the tall man from Shreveport, La., came when he put his tee shot within 3½ feet of the pin on the No. 3 hole at 6,826-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course, then sank it for a birdie.

Kroll, the war veteran and veteran of the golf tour from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was 15 feet away and missed his putt by a foot for a par.

First place had wound up in a tie among Pott, Kroll and Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex., each shooting 275 for 72 holes.

In the playoff Wininger eliminated himself on the first extra hole when his second shot was 60 feet off the green. He chipped up 25 feet away and putted past by 3 feet to take a bogey.

Wininger and Kroll split second and 3rd money, getting $2,050 each. It was the second straight year for Wininger to tie for second—he did it last year with Dow Finsterwald and Earl Stewart.

BROWN 3-HITTER GIVES 'BIRDS SPLIT OF TWO WITH SENATORS

Washington (AP)— Skinny Brown threw a 3-hitter to give Baltimore the nightcap, 3-1, after Washington shut out the league-leading Orioles, 4-0 in the opener of Monday's holiday doubleheader.

A near-capacity crowd of 26,568 saw the Senators break a 7-game winning streak that had shoved Baltimore to the top of the American League and then watched the Birds bounce back to retain first place although their margin was cut to one game as New York took two from Boston.

Chuck Stobbs and Hal Woodeshick combined on a 5-hitter in the first game while Harmon Killebrew and Reno Bertoia each homered with one on.

Brown had a shutout going into the 9th inning of the nightcap but a hit batsman, a single by Bertoia and an infield out produced the Senators' lone run. Brown fanned 11 on the way to his 11th victory against 5 losses.

Ron Hansen's 20th homer sent Baltimore ahead in the 5th inning of the second game.

Stobbs allowed only 3 hits through 7 innings of the first game on the way to his 10th victory against 5 losses.

Cards Edge Cubs In 10; 2nd Called

Chicago (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs went into a pair of 10-inning battles Monday with the Cardinals winning the first game 2-1 and the nightcap being called because of darkness with the score tied 4-4.

The result, coupled with the Milwaukee-Pittsburgh split, lifted the Cardinals into a second place tie with Milwaukee, 6½ games behind the front running Pirates.

The Cardinals snapped a 1-1 tie in the 10th inning of the first game when Stan Musial bounced into a force play with the bases loaded, chasing home the winning run. The Cards had filled the bases with a walk, George Crowe's pinch double and a hit batsman.

Ken Boyer cracked his 29th homer in the second inning. The Cubs tied it in the 8th on a pair of walks and Richie Ashburn's single.

Mechanical Map Wows Fair Goers

The State Game Commission wanted a very impressive map for their State Fair booth which would show what Nebraska could offer tourists and residents in outdoor recreation.

Electrician Chick Vorhees produced the monster-sized map with blinking lights, traveling (on Interstate) autos, and scenes of potential vacation sites in the Cornhusker state.

All it took was 3,000 ft. of wiring, 135 light bulbs, 7 motors and 4½ weeks of work.

The finished product, operating continuously at the Game Commission building, operates in synchronization with a recording of Director Mel Steen's voice, and each area on the map lights up as Steen discusses it.

The purpose of the big project is a plea to Nebraskans to tell their state senators to vote appropriations to the Commission to build the needed outdoor facilities which could net half a million annually from the tourist trade.

U.S. Fencer Out

Rome (AP) — David Michanik of Wilkes Barre, Pa., was eliminated in the second round Monday in the individual epee class of the Olympic fencing tournament.

McKinley Pressed As Net Choices Advance

Forest Hills, N.Y. (AP) — Defending champion Neale Fraser, the Australian power plant, led an uninterrupted parade of favorites into the 3rd round of the national tennis championships Monday but there was one near upset that staggered U.S. Davis Cup brass.

Fraser swept through, a routine 6-1, 6-1, 6-1 victory over Crawford Henry of Atlanta and Barry MacKay, the big Dayton, O., blaster downed Mac White of Corpus Christi, Tex., 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn seeded No. 7—another hopeful Davis Cupper—whipped past Robin Spengler of South Africa, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

They were the easy ones.

Chuck McKinley, who is being brought along slowly as a future top Davis Cupper, almost gave the bigwigs the shakes, though, when he staggered past Martin Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill., 1-6, 9-7, 7-5, 7-5.

This was a battle of a couple of basketball players. McKinley, a mathematical whiz at Trinity in San Antonio, Tex., gave up basketball to concentrate on tennis.

Riessen, 18-year-old son of Northwestern University tennis coach, enters Northwestern this fall on a basketball scholarship.

It was supposed to be nothing more than a good workout for McKinley. But Riessen swept through the first set almost before McKinley could get his bearings.

Senate Readies Probe Of Antibiotics Prices

Washington (AP)—Senate investigators exploring alleged profiteering in the sale of prescirption medicines turn to the price of antibiotics at hearings starting Wednesday.

The Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly subcommittee announced it will seek to learn:

1. Why competition has failed to bring the price of antibiotics below the present general range of 30 cents to 50 cents a dose, except for penicillin.

2. Why, almost on the eve of the hearings, some of the large manufacturers have announced a 15% cut in the wholesale prices of many of their antibiotics preparations

3. Why the armed services have been able to buy antibiotics abroad at prices lower than the going rate in the United States.

Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn, said the hearings will start with testimony from Dr. Wilbur G. Malcolm, president of American Cyanamid Co. of New York City, and other officials of the big drug manufacturing firm.

Education Plan For Industry Amendment Being Formed

Plans for organization of a statewide educational program on behalf of the proposed Industrial Development Amendment to Nebraska's Constitution have been announced by Nathan J. Gold of Lincoln, chairman of the Nebraska Resources Foundation.

Gold said the program will be outlined before a meeting of business, organizational, governmental and political leaders in Hastings Sept. 14.

"We have invited a broad cross-section of Nebraska leadership to attend this meeting because we want to impress upon them what passage of this vital amendment can do to attract new industry, balance our economy and create new and more diversified job opportunities for Nebraska citizens," he said.

Amendment Highlights

Gold pointed out that the proposed amendment would permit individual communities to acquire industrial sites and construct industrial buildings through issuance of revenue bonds which would be secured only by the lease of the property to industry.

The bonds would not be a general obligation of the community and could not result in any increase in taxes.

"This amendment was proposed by the recent special session of legislature, and if it fails to pass Nov. 8 it would be better that it had never been proposed, because our competing sister states will then be able to say the defeat means Nebraska is not interested in attracting new industry," Gold said.

He added, "Many of us who are interested in Nebraska progress believe that if an educational program is conducted, designed to create a broad public understanding of this amendment and what it means to Nebraska, its passage will be assured."

Arrangements for the Sept. 14 meeting are being made by the Hastings and Lincoln Chambers of Commerce.

Demo Campaigner Headed For Top Post In Informality

Detroit (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy is well on his way to becoming one of history's most informal candidates for the presidency.

When he makes his formal appearances before crowds in his campaign, Kennedy is an impeccably dressed, eminently correct, almost proper young Bostonian.

From his carefully brushed hair to the shining tips of his fashionable shoes, the Democratic presidential nominee exudes an air of tempered sophistication. He is the Harvard version of an intellectual with an un-Harvard compulsion to action.

The Kennedy that the public doesn't see, however, is an entirely different kind of person.

Once the painful necessities of coping with the crowds—talking, smiling, shaking hands, signing autographs and all the rigamarolle of dealing with the public is behind—Kennedy seeks the solace of informality in a plane or train where staff members and reporters are his companions.

In these surroundings the Democratic presidential nominee really relaxes. He sheds the formal dignity of a presidential candidate as he doffs his coat and shoes and sinks in shirt-sleeved luxury into a comfortable seat.

Kennedy is eager to chat. Reporters and staff members cluster about him, pitch questions and get frank answers. The talk ranges the field of international relations or dips deeply into domestic issues. Anybody who has a good joke, even if it bears on his Catholic religion, draws the prompt reward from him of hearty laughter.

This is a fellow who can take it, most of those on the fringes of the crowd about him agree. He has yet to reveal to them any of the supersensitive spots that were quickly apparent under similar circumstances in President Eisenhower, former president Harry S. Truman, Thomas E. Dewey and many others who have run for the presidency.

Even Truman, the most informal of the lot, never matched Kennedy in his informality with the press.

Truman joined the boys in poker games. But none of them ever saw him in pajamas, sitting on the edge of a jet-plane bunk, fanning the breeze with all who chose to gather around him.

Jack Says GOP Stifled Economy

By Arthur Edson

Detroit (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy contended Monday that the nation's economic growth has been stifled by the Eisenhower administration—at a cost of $7,000 for the average family.

"Under Republican leadership," Kennedy said, "this country is standing still, here in this country and around the world."

The Democratic presidential candidate told a Labor Day throng of some 60,000 standing under a hot sun in Detroit's Cadillac Square:

Indifference

"For the last 8 years in this country we have had a government frozen in the ice of its own indifference . . . our economy under the first 6 years of the Republican administration grew one half as much as under the last 6 years under the Truman administration."

In a reference to racial discrimination and lunch counter sit-ins, Kennedy remarked:

"I want every American free to stand up for his rights, even if sometimes he has to sit down for them."

Kennedy hit hard on economic issues in this city which has felt an unemployment pinch in recent years.

Pounding

And later in a speech in the automobile-manufacturing city of Flint, he continued pounding the theme.

In his address, Kennedy said that automation has become a national problem that threatens millions with unemployment.

"We must anticipate the displacement of men by machines wherever it happens and alert those affected to new job opportunities across the country," he said, adding:

"We must act, and act promptly to solve the problem of automation which threatens millions of Americans with technological unemployment."

Kennedy suggested that conferences of industrial, union and government officials be called to deal with this.

Without spelling out precisely how he reached his conclusions, Kennedy said this is what might have been achieved with what he termed an average rate of growth in this country:

"Every working man in the last 8 years would have received $7,000 more than he has received, for an education or a new house or a rainy day or his old age.

"With a really healthy rate of growth, this country can have full employment for all who want a job . . . we can pay for all the defenses this administration says we can't afford . . . we can afford the best schools for our children and the best paid and best trained teachers."

Jaunt On Homemade Craft Almost Tragic For Youths

Omaha (AP)—Three Creighton University students, after weeks of planning, launched a home-made raft for a trip to St. Louis on the Missouri River.

But the trip ended abruptly when one of the students, Tom Pluhacek, 21, of Omaha nearly drowned when the raft struck a barge and broke up in the swift stream.

Some 30 friends and relatives went down to see Tom and his companions, Mike Gallagher, 20, and Bob Dwyer, Jr., 19 of Omaha, shoved off downstream.

Among the well-wishers Claude Brackett, who brought his motor boat along. When the raft hugged the shore, Brackett towed it into the current and then said "goodbye."

"We decided that we ought to go back upstream to see how they were getting along," Brackett said. "We found them and pulled alongside to talk.

Sucked It In

Mike said they "thought for a time we have cleared it when suddenly the raft headed straight for the barge," becoming wedged under the barge's bow. The current sucked it in.

Brackett threw the youths a line and tried unsuccessfully to pull them free. Tom and Mike were up to their necks in the water.

A watchman on the raft noticed the trouble and tossed Gallagher a line, and it was tied around Pluhacek, whose "strength must have given out."

Pluhacek was gotten to shore where artificial respiration was applied. His two companions salvaged duffel bags and sleeping bags, but lost most of the rest of their gear.

Horse Unit's Lady Head Likes Show

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

Many folks are surprised when they find that the national secretary of the Belgian Draft Horse Assn. of America is an attractive lady.

Schmalzried

This surprise doesn't last for long when Miss Blanche A. Schmalzried of Walbash, Indiana starts talking about her beloved Belgians.

During the state fair show Sunday which she termed one of the outstanding shows of the nation Miss Schmalzried said, "We are having a tremendous increase in folks wanting to own Belgians, our registrations have risen over 100 percent in the last few years."

'Want To See Good Horse'

She thinks the crowds watching the judging are prompted by folks, "wanting to see a good horse and to watch the action of the large farm animals."

She points out to interested folks that most of the Belgians are a beautiful sorrel color or attractive roans.

Most of the exhibitors that showed the 70 head of Belgians use their horses on their farms, according to Miss Schmalzried.

And how did a lady become head of the Belgian Assn.?

'Knew More Than Others'

Miss Schmalzried said it was just natural, she worked in the office for a number of years and when the previous secretary, a man, quit the breeders figured she knew more about the business than anyone else.

This was her first trip to the Nebraska State Fair but she said, "I love it here, and I hope I can return again to visit the fair that has one of the largest Belgian shows in America."

Belgian awards presented to first and second-place winners in the Belgian Draft Horse Show are:

'Birth Control OK'

Cardiff, Wales (AP) — The Anglican Bishop of Llandaff, Dr. Glyn Simon, said birth control is preferable to bringing children into the world to suffer from hunger. He made the statement at a cathedral service attended by many members of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

POSTCARD

The melancholy days are here again. As I watch my children trudge off to school —they trudge off in sports cars these days, but no matter.

Anyway, I intend that my 5-year-old son shall make a big thing of history.

His story shows you how other people had troubles.

The Crusader Giles de Roufacand suffered agonies of shame because his armor did not fit in the seat.

"Just because I buy it off the rack is no reason you can't let them out," he told the hardware store man. "Sam, you make the pants too small."

Fair Rosalind of Tuffordchire — a poor mouse who might have been Queen except for a distressing itch. There were dozens of others.

○ ○ ○

Well, all this is solved for us in our wonderful age. Tailoring is better. And doctors have anti-allergy pills.

Another thing we have is "motivation research" — probably the greatest solution to man's problems yet.

This is a simple study of what makes you do like you do-do-do.

Why housewives prefer the big soap package. And gentlemen buy cars so close to the ground you can't drive over a dime without scraping.

The biggest man in this business is Emanuel H. Demby. He is president of Motivation Research Associates and is studying "a wide range of consumers' most pressing psychological needs."

Do you know your most pressing psychological needs? I thought not. We are often the last to know.

"Same Old Grass . . . Same Old Lawn . . .

But the Grass is Always Greener

"When They Use 'Instant Tint-A-Green Treatment"

With this type of motivated advertising, Demby intends to remove most of our "artificial tension" — the problem of keeping the lawn green.

That is your most pressing psychological need. Mine, too. And I don't even HAVE a lawn.

Demby was given his assignment by Prior Products Corp. An outfit, I gather, that knew what it wanted, but didn't know what it was.

They wanted something to sell that everybody had a pressing need for.

Demby researched this by asking psychological questions and getting psychological replies.

"What everybody wants — and I don't mean mink coats, those are only symptoms. What everybody has a pressing need for is a green lawn," said Demby.

Prior Products was flabbergasted. Because they were thinking in terms of a better mousetrap. In fact, were tooled up for it with an attractive, plastic green cheese bait.

But Demby explained that many husbands were "forced to manicure lawns for long hours during so-called free weekends — at great risk to life and limb."

Tint-a-green, as you may have guessed, is simply a spray-on green dye. How simple these things are if you look at them the right way.

☆ ☆ ☆

As in most motivation research, the whole thing boils down to social status.

"Husbands told our interviewers that their wives' pressure for higher social status caused this enforced slave labor on lawns."

Once on the right track, Demby has moved forward to see that your pressing needs are satisfied whether or no.

A newsreel will run the "Tint-a-green" story.

Boy Scouts have been mobilized to form "Tint-a-green Centers."

Ex-Gov. Earl Long, 65, Taken By Death

. . . Only 10 Days After Comeback Victory

Alexandria, La. (AP)— Earl Kemp Long, grizzled patriarch of a Louisiana political clan and 3 times governor of the state, died of a heart attack early Monday.

Blanche Long

The 65-year-old Long, winner of the Democratic runoff for a congressional seat from the state's 8th District only 10 days ago, "just turned over in his bed and died."

Mrs. Blanche Long, his estranged wife, said Long's doctors told her he had a heart attack after spending a good night.

He awoke in good spirits, she said, but "he went out just like a light after he drank a cup of coffee."

Ellis ("Easy Money") Littleton, 30, who drove a sound truck for Long and acted as his hospital attendant, was in Long's room when he died. He said Long got up at 6:30 a.m., drank some coffee and then went back to sleep.

Long had been a patient at Baptist Hospital here since Aug. 28, the day after he defeated Rep. Harold McSween in the Democratic primary.

At Baton Rouge, Gov. Jimmie Davis said Long's body would lie in state in the rotunda of the State Capitol prior to burial.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church in Baton Rouge at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. R. U. Parrott, Long's personal physician, said burial would probably be in a family plot near Long's "Pea Patch" home at Winnfield, the central Louisiana town where he and his famous brother, Huey P. Long, rode muleback through the red-clay hills as boys.

Earl's death came just 5 days before the 25th anniversary of the death of his brother, self-styled "Kingfish" of Louisiana and its governor and U.S. senator. Huey Long was shot on Sept. 8, 1935, in the corridor of the skyscraper capitol he built. He died two days later.

A dynamic force in state politics for more than 30 years, the volatile, combative Earl Long reached the pinnacle of his career last year. His antics, including bouncing in and out of two mental hospitals, piqued the nation's curiosity and drew headlines in foreign newspapers.

He came back to the political scene just a few weeks after his term closed and ran for the congressional seat once held by his late brother George. He battled McSween into a runoff and won by almost 4,000 votes.

BIG BAD BEE WRECKS BUS

Keeseville, N.Y. (AP) — A charter bus from New Jersey with 35 passengers aboard careened down an embankment on heavily-traveled Route 9 Monday and rolled over.

State police said 7 passengers were hospitalized. Only one of the injured was believed hurt seriously.

The driver of the bus, Gerald L. Wise, 30, of Mountainside, N.J., told troopers a bee was responsible for the crash. He said he lost control of the vehicle when he attempted to swat a bee that had landed on his arm.

Demos' Lack Of Money Hurts Drive—Hanson

Nebraska's Democratic candidates are "as always . . . at a tremendous disadvantage because of the vast wealth of the Republican Party," Democratic State Chairman Russell Hanson said.

"Notwithstanding their denials, it is an established fact that the Republicans spent almost a quarter million dollars in Nebraska in 1958, while the Democratic candidates had less than one-fiftieth of that amount," Hanson noted.

This year, the GOP budget is "far greater," the chairman pointed out.

Committee Meets

Hanson made his comments following a meeting of the state executive committee in Lincoln.

The session resulted in "new and increased responsibilities" for members of the party's state central committee," Hanson said.

Precinct-by-precinct assignments haye been given to all Nebraska Democratic workers, the chairman declared. Duties include organization, campaign activities, fund-raising and election day efforts.

In addition, Democrats have undertaken a registration drive in the 14 Nebraska communities in which political registration is required.

'Upsurge' Seen

Latest figures indicate "a tremendous upsurge in Democratic voting strength," Hanson said.

National Committeeman Bernard Boyle noted that the party has not received "one dime from organized labor" for the coming campaign.

In other action, Hanson announced that Mrs. George Abdouch of Omaha, formerly executive secretary of Nebraskans-for-Kennedy, is now serving as executive director of the Kennedy-Johnson campaign in Nebraska.

The party will open a headquarters in Omaha from which the campaign will be directed.

Group To 'Help'

Ralph Horton, national representative of Citizens-for-Kennedy, noted that the citizens group is in Nebraska "to try to help existing party organization."

"We are not here to supplant it nor to fulfill their political responsibilities to Democratic candidates," he said.

Gubernatorial nominee Frank Morrison told the committee that "interest in our campaign is so great that we are already committed for two-thirds of the remaining time between now and election day."

Morrison said he will take his campaign into every county in the state.

BAFFLING

Tehran, Iran (AP)— A small black fish with a beard-like sac is baffling Iran's marine experts and the Navy has been called out to combat it.

The so far unnamed fish—5 inches long with a poison sac shaped like a beard—is blamed for the deaths of 28 persons in the Shatt Al Arab River on the western border, Iranian newspapers said Monday.

A father whose son rushed from the river with the fish clinging to his leg said the child flushed red then turned black and died within minutes, the newspaper reported.

—CONEY ISLAND—

Lodge Almost Mobbed

. . . By Bathers

New York (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge was nearly mobbed by thousands of well wishers Monday on a campaign tour of Coney Island, mixing politics with a hot dog diet.

The Republican vice presidential candidate and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, sweating in shirt sleeves in 90 degree heat, were buffeted by thousands of Labor Day vacationers.

They appeared at times to be close to physical danger as the press of hauling and tugging humanity tried to get close enough to shake hands.

Seven mounted policemen and scores on foot tried to form a cordon around them as they walked from a hot dog stand to the boardwalk. The police on horseback traveled on the sidewalk and on the boardwalk in a largely futile attempt to keep the crowds back.

Entrances Closed

The crowd on the boardwalk was so great that police closed Stillwell Ave. and 12th St. entrances in the tour area.

"We want to keep the boardwalk from collapsing," the police told the people.

The Coney Island visit was the highlight of a helicopter-hopping tour that also took in the boardwalks of Jones Beach and Jacob Riis Park at Rockaway.

For Lodge it was a new experience after 7½ years he served in the formal halls of the United Nations as U.S. ambassador.

But, with his clothes wet from perspiration, he appeared to enjoy the rough and tumble campaigning and shook hundreds of hands.

Lodge and Rockefeller became separated occasionally during the boardwalk tours. Rockefeller appeared at times to "outdraw" Lodge in the number of people swarming around him.

2-Car Crash Injures Raul O. Hensley, 20

Raul O. Hensley, 20, of 3340 Y, was treated and released from a local hospital after receiving multiple cuts in a two car accident at 34th and Orchard St. Monday night.

Police reported that Hensley was northbound on 34th when his car was in collision with the car of William W. Burr, of 1300 N. 37th, who was westbound on Orchard.
